BUILD FOR FUTURE ATLANTA, SAY BUSINESS MEN INDORSING MOVEMENT FOR BOND ISSUE

Utilize City's Idle Credit to Make Permanent Needed Improvements.

CONSTITUTION'S POSITION MEETS EMPHATIC APPROVAL

Leaders in Progress of City Say Atlanta Faces Crucial Step, and Urge Bond Issue for Benefits Which Posterity Will Enjoy and Help Pay For.

Thoughtful, practical business men of Atlanta are indorsing the position taken by The Constitution that the time has come for Atlanta to build for the future and cease to let municipal affairs run along from year to year with makeshifts and patchwork which are resorted to only to tide over present needs.

These business men, who have a deep interest in Atlanta's welfare and are actuated by civic pride, all agree that to build for the future and let posterity pay for some of the benefits which they are to enjoy is the only way to conduct the city's affairs. They also recognize that the fear of too much bonded indebtedness is a "bogie," as the improvements to follow an issue of bonds will result in sufficient increases in valuation to take care of any additional levies upon the city's revenue.

The Constitution has secured expressions from a number of leading business men of Atlanta. Their views, which are herewith submitted, show very plainly how an issuance of bonds, when the city has over $5,000,000 leeway under the state law, is regarded by men who are safe, sound and practical when it comes to business methods.

Bankers Indorse Movement.

Asa G. Candler: "We added far more than $3,000,000 to the value of Atlanta when we made the $3,000,000 bond issue, and I believe from our increase in property values and population that the time has come for another bond issue. It is the only way in which we can handle the needs of our growing city, and we certainly have brains and integrity enough to guarantee its being spent right. I realize that some good men will oppose this bond issue, as was done previously, but I cannot see how a thinking man who turns his attention to the matter can do so."

W. J. Blalock, President Fulton National bank: "Nobody doubts but that Atlanta is growing and that it is soon to be a great city among American municipalities, and I believe that it is time that we adopted a comprehensive system for various public improvements, particularly our streets, and then issue bonds to meet the cost. For one thing we need a permanent grade for our main arteries of traffic, and for that we ought to employ an expert."

William Hurd Hillyer: "As a general thing I believe that the debt of a city should be kept down as low as possible and on general principles I oppose the issuing of bonds. Atlanta's strong point has been her small outstanding debt as compared with similar cities over the country, and so I oppose a wholesale issuing of bonds, but for permanent public improvements, under proper care, I would favor the issuing of certain bonds."

Colonel Robert J. Lowry: "As a general proposition and for public improvements I am for the issuing of bonds to a certain extent."

Colonel W. L. Peel: "I am heartily in favor of such a bond issue as advocated by The Constitution. City council or a commission ought to map out the necessary improvements needed by Atlanta and then issue bonds sufficient to cover this expense. We need many improvements in our street system and the only way we can cover this expense is by issuing bonds."

Ex-Mayor Robert F. Maddox: "I think that the growth of the city has created such a demand on the various departments of the city that there are not enough funds from current taxation to meet them. An increase, for instance, of our taxable valuation aggregating $10,000,000 brings in a revenue of only $125,000, which could be readily absorbed by the necessary extension of fire and police extension alone. I believe that bond issues for permanent public improvements are not only wise, but necessary, and as the city grows these public improvements become more costly and less likely to be made out of current taxes. I am glad to see that the city council has appointed a committee of 100 to look into the matter and I hope its report may give Atlanta a definite plan upon which to work."

Merchants Say Plan Is Safe.

Colonel F. J. Paxon: "Atlanta owes it to her present prosperity and her future greatness to issue bonds, just as many as the people will vote, and that can be sold. There is no other way to build a big city. The Constitution has my most emphatic indorsement and there is no better work to engage the attention of our people at this time than to begin a bond campaign and hold an election as soon as possible. I not only favor the $5,000,000 issue, but more if it were possible to get it."

Henry S. Johnson: "I favor the issuance of more bonds; provided, the

SOME WOULD BAR MEN OF FAMILY

Methodist Conference Discusses Young Married Preachers.

Much Business Transacted at Savannah Meeting---Some of the Most Important Matters.

Savannah, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—There was a spirited discussion which drifted dangerously close to personalities at today's session of the South Georgia Methodist conference, when the name of James McFerrin Clark, of Pelham, was presented for admission on trial.

The objection to the admission was made on the grounds that Mr. Clark, as a man of family, should not be allowed to make the sacrifice that is expected of a minister during his early service.

Rev. T. D. Ellis warned the conference against admitting men who have families to support, and who are not in a position to properly carry on ministry work.

"There is already too much suffering among Methodist ministers," declared Dr. Ellis. "It does not do the church any good to have men who are burdened with a large family to enter the ministerial service. It is a serious matter, and the conference should at least be careful.

Rev. J. M. Outler, presiding elder of the Thomasville district, believed Mr. Clark would not be hampered by financial difficulties. He understood, however, Mr. Clark had contracted a small debt.

Rev. Bascom Anthony, presiding elder of the Dublin district, thought it would be wise for the conference to refuse to admit Mr. Clark. "The most serious thing affecting our ministry is the preachers not paying their debts," said Mr. Anthony.

At this point Rev. J. M. Shingler, of Cyrene, asked: "Is this a Methodist conference? Are you going to sit down on a preacher because he has a wife and children? This sort of business will encourage race suicide."

Mr. Shingler's remarks did more than anything else to swing the conference's vote in favor of Mr. Clark, about thirty voting against it.

Greeting From South Carolina.

The attendance was further increased today by response at roll call by a number of late arrivals. A mes-

FINE VOTE OFFER IN M. & M. CONTEST

Each Lady Registering at Demonstration Gets 500 Votes for Her Organization.

Have you been to a demonstration? What demonstration, do you ask?

Well, if you don't know, you are missing a great opportunity to see a fine show and at the same time get 500 votes for your favorite organization in The Constitution's M. and M. contest.

Just think of 500 votees, and all you have to do is to go to a demonstration and register. This does not include men, for what would they know about a demonstration, any way, but it means the good women of Atlanta who are ever foremost in good works.

At the demonstrations samples of all the products handled in the contest are exhibited, and their good qualities shown to the visitors. Then each lady present is asked to register her name and when she does she is entitled to cast 500 votes for the organization for which she is working.

A demonstration was given on Thanksgiving day at the Jewish Alliance on Capitol avenue, and a large number of ladies were present and cast their votes for the alliance.

Friday there was a demonstration at the Central Congregational church, and when the products had been viewed by many ladies, the guests registered and voted for that organization.

There will be a demonstration next Monday and Tuesday at the West End Presbyterian church.

Don't fail to attend a demonstration if you are looking for pleasure and profit. It is one of the biggest and best free shows ever given in Atlanta. If you doubt it, go and see for yourself.

BRIDEGROOM IS NABBED AT WEDDING RECEPTION

LaCrosse, Wis., November 29.—Married on Wednesday morning to Miss Mae Phillips, a wealthy heiress, William Owen, an employee in a Minneapolis corporation office, was arrested in the midst of the reception to the wedding guests. The youn gman spent his wedding night in jail and remained there over Thanksgiving.

Today he was arrested on a fugitive warrant and remanded to await the arrival of extradition papers from the governor of Wisconsin. He is charged with deceiving Miss Gertrude Strickland, a co-ed at the University of Minnesota.

Theater for Children.

New York, November 29.—A children's theater, the only playhouse in the world devoted exclusively to the entertainment of children, is to be opened in New York next month. The funds for the enterprise were provided by William K. Vanderbilt, but it is expected to be practically self-supporting.

SHERIFF SHOOTS HOST AT PARTY

Heard County Official Goes on Rampage.

Bob McWaters Dying, His Son Badly Wounded in a Duel With Taylor Brothers.

Franklin, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Bob McWaters is dying and his son, Frank McWaters, is lying seriously wounded as a result of a pistol duel in which the father and son were on one side and Sheriff Lee Taylor, of Heard county, and his brother, Dawson Taylor, were on the other.

The McWaters gave a party at their home, six miles from Franklin, on Thanksgiving night. The Taylor brothers were invited, but when they arrived it is alleged that the sheriff was under the influence of whisky. He was invited to leave the house by the older McWaters, it is said, and when he remonstrated a quarrel was started, in which the sheriff's brother and McWaters son became involved.

When the shooting started the McWaters were shot down at the first volley. After the elder McWaters had received mortal wounds he drew his revolver and shot four times at his assailants, but the bullets flew wide of the mark.

The Taylor brothers are now at liberty on bond pending the outcome of the wounds inflicted on the elder McWaters. Excitement is very high here, and there are many rumors regarding further trouble.

LAME, HALT AND BLIND ASK DAMAGES FOR HURTS

Five damage suits amounting to $50,000 were filed yesterday in the local courts against Atlanta corporations and firms. Mrs. Ruth Rhoeburts, who fell into a coal chute on South Pryor street on October 29, wants $5,000 from the Ernest L. Rhodes company and the Morrow Transfer company. The transfer company, she asserts, was storing coal in the basement of the other defendant and left the lid off the opening in the sidewalk.

T. H. Griffies, car inspector for the Louisville and Nashville, asked for $20,000 because, he asserts, his foot was crushed off while in the performance of duty.

O. H. Wilkerson, fireman for the Southern railway, sued the company for $15,000 for the loss of his right eye.

O. N. Rudasill brought suit for $5,000 against the Atlanta Steel company, claiming that he was internally injured when a belt broke at the company's plant on September 12.

M. C. Smith brought suit for $5,000 against the Foote & Davies company, alleging that one of their auto trucks ran into a wagon on which he was riding and threw him to the pavement, injuring him internally.

MURDER AND GOLD IN MAN'S CONFESSION

Sloan Tells Story of Miser's Death, Implicating Risley as Actual Slayer.

Relating in a cool, unaffected voice the details of the murder of Will Franklin, the aged miser who was slain and robbed in his hovel at 224 Decatur street last Saturday night, Robert Lee Sloan, the teamster, held under suspicion, last night cleared up the mystery by confessing to his connection with the crime.

For three hours he was put through a grilling third degree by detectives at police headquarters. Until darkness he had stoutly maintained his innocence, constantly repeating his alibi. At darkness, however, he broke down completely and confessed, but implicated as the actual slayer another prisoner whom the police hold under suspicion.

The other prisoner is Frank Risley, known as "Shot," a young laborer who has been under arrest since a few hours after the murder was discovered. He firmly denies connection with the crime.

At midnight, Friday, Detectives Chewning and Norris arrested Sloan and a young woman, Miss Chloe Austin, in whose company he has been seen often during the past week. The couple were at the Austin woman's home on Decatur street. Sloan was docketed with suspicion, and his companion was held as a material witness.

The Austin woman still is being detained as a witness. Detectives believe Sloan has not told of all the money he obtained in the robbery, and that his female companion knows where it had been secreted. They also believe that Sloan lavished upon her a large amount of the loot.

Sloan's Story.

"I was standing near Pratt street (only a few yards from No. 234) when old man Franklin passed and went into 224," said Sloan, according to detectives. "'Shot' Risley came along a few feet behind, and asked me to step in with him to buy some apples from the peddler. I walked in with him. There was not a hint of robbery or murder, and I went with Risley merely to buy the fruit.

"We walked into the old man's room. There wasn't any light except two candles burning on a cigar box. 'Shot' told the peddler he wanted to buy a dime's worth of apples. Franklin stooped over his fruit box and selected four apples. 'Shot' told him he wanted six for a dime, and that he could get them at that price in the Decatur street fruit stands.

"They had a few words, to the best

SCHOOL SYSTEM CONDEMNED AS CRIMINAL AND A MENACE BY PROMINENT PHYSICIANS

"The public school system of Atlanta is a menace to the health and lives of the children."

"There are at least 1,000 school children in the city who are anaemic and almost nervous wrecks."

"The school hours are too long and too great a strain on little children."

"It is actually criminal to make a child sit in one position and not be allowed to even turn its head."

"A strong policeman or a member of the board of education could not stand the strain to which the children are daily submitted."

"The schools are keeping up a system which is more fitted to the heathen in his darkness than an enlightened civilization."

Must Destroy Children's Nerves.

"An Atlanta school teacher's position depends upon her being able to successfully destroy the nervous system of the children under her."

"The entire public school fabric of Atlanta should be torn down and rebuilt from the ground up."

"The children are marked for behavior most ridiculously, and good children get bad marks and bad children good marks, because those who are good are not as able to stand the terrible nervous strain as are the bad and strong ones."

The above were some of the charges made against Atlanta's public school system in as strong an arraignment as was ever made against a civic body in the city at a meeting of the Fulton County Medical association Friday evening at the Carnegie library.

Dr. Campbell Not Present.

Dr. J. P. Campbell, the professor of biology at the University of Georgia, who was to have spoken on "Sex Hygiene," was not present, and the association turned its attention to the public schools.

The discussion was started on a

$200,000,000 FOR PENSIONS

Unusually Large Appropriation Will Be Necessary at Short Session of Congress.

Washington, November 29.—Appropriations of nearly $200,000,000 for pensions to veterans of American wars will be necessary at the short session of congress that opens Monday. The unusual sum, exceeding all appropriations of former years, will be necessary to make up a deficit of nearly $20,000,000 resulting from the increase of pensions by the Sherwood bill last winter and the proportionate increase of the general pensions authorized by this act.

Estimates by members of congress made today indicate the regular pension bill probably will carry about $175,000,000. This in itself will be a record-breaking total, as the Sherwood law materially increased many pensions. It has not yet been determined whether the deficit of approximately $20,000,000 will be added to the regular appropriation bill or put into some other measure. The pension bureau has enough money for the present, but will run short between March 4 and July 1, when the new fiscal year begins, unless it gets the extra $20,000,000.

Unexpected support has appeared among returning members of the senate for a bill to remove the present limitation upon pensions to widows of veterans. The law now gives no pension to a widow who married her soldier husband after July 27, 1890.

Repeated efforts to remove or modify this limitation have failed, and it is expected that if the senate should act on a bill this year, democrats of the house would vigorously oppose it, because of the great increase it would bring to the annual pension outlay. To give all widows of soldiers the right to apply for pensions would add from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 to the present pension total, it is stated.

$140,000 FOUND ON CITY DUMP

Kansas City, November 29.—Bonds having a face value of $140,000, together with checks and a small amount of coupons that disappeared here June 5, when two registered mail sacks were stolen while en route from the postoffice to the railway station here, were found today on the city dump by three laborers. The bonds were Waco, Texas, city paper, which at the time they disappeared from a mail trolley car en route to the railway station, were being shipped by the Commerce Trust company, of this city, to the Guarantee Trust company, of New York city. They were insured by an English concern for the full amount, $140,000, which was paid two weeks after the disappearance.

Police and federal officials could find no clew as to what had become of the paper and the insurance company offered $1,000 reward for its return.

IT TOOK 5 MONTHS TO NAB DYNAMITERS

Ten Explosions Occurred After They Had Been Pointed Out to the Detectives.

Indianapolis, Ind., November 29.—Five months and six days was fixed by witnesses at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today as the time it required to arrest James B. McNamara, dynamiter of the Los Angeles Times building in which twenty-one persons were killed, after the dynamiter had been pointed out to detectives.

The substance of the testimony as to dates was:

On November 2, 1910, one month and one day after the Los Angeles explosion, in a hotel lobby in Chicago, Herbert S. Hockin, secretary of the Iron Workers' union, and accused "betrayer" of the dynamiters, gave to Raymond J. Burns, son of the detective who finally caused the arrests, a full description of McNamara and Ortie E. McManigal.

Pointed Out McNamara.

On November 5, at a railroad station in Chicago, Raymond Burns, to his detectives, pointed out McManigal, who was leaving for a hunting trip near Conover, Wis., and instructed the detectives to follow.

On November 6, at Kenosha, Wis., Detectives William J. Otts and Benjamin F. Damon found McManigal had been joined by McNamara, who, under the alias of "Frank Sullivan," accompanied a hunting party to Conover, where, from November 8 to December 4, the detectives "shadowed" the dynamiters by talking to them in camp and observing them through glasses. Finally McNamara and McManigal returned to Chicago on a train on which there were no detectives. In January, 1911, Raymond Burns met Hockin in Chicago and asked the whereabouts of McManigal, who in the meantime had been to Los Angeles and caused an explosion there in the Lewellyn Iron works.

Ten Explosions Occurred.

James B. McNamara and McManigal were arrested on April 12, 1911, and John J. McNamara was arrested on April 22, 1911. Ten explosions occurred between December, 1910, and the time of the arrests.

Raymond Burns said he had received information from Lindsey L. Jewel, then in Pittsburg, who testified that Hockin, two months before the Los Angeles explosion, had given the locations of hiding places for explosives. Jewel was going to Panama as an engineer and had urged Hockin to report to Burns.

The substance of Raymond Burns' testimony was:

"On November 2 I met Hockin in a hotel lobby in Chicago. He told me that Brice, then being hunted on the

ARMED MOB AFTER NEGRO ASSAILANT

Brute Shot Mother, and Then Assaulted Daughter.

Sheriff Arrested Chesley Williams, But Men Are In Close Pursuit. Race In Autos.

Cordele, Ga., November 29.—Armed men, determined to lynch Chesley Williams, a negro, accused of shooting and wounding the wife of a prominent planter near Rhine, Ga., and of then assaulting her 18-year-old daughter, tonight are pursuing in automobiles another automobile containing the negro and a police escort.

The negro was captured early tonight by the Dodge county sheriff in a small frame building near the home where the crimes were committed last night. Fearing that the accused man would be summarily treated by enraged citizens, the sheriff placed the negro in an automobile and, with five deputies, left for an unknown destination to place the negro in jail.

Residents of the vicinity where the assault and shooting occurred, and who had been searching for the negro on their own accord, learned of the action of the sheriff a half hour after he had left with the negro. Other automobiles were obtained and, following the general direction taken by the sheriff, are tonight racing to overtake him and obtain possession of the negro. It is believed the sheriff started for McRae, Ga., or some other point on the Southern railroad.

While the mother and her daughter were in their home alone last night near Rhine, which is 30 miles from here, a negro entered the house. When ordered to leave, he shot the mother and then assaulted the daughter. Both are in serious condition. The crime was discovered later, when other members of the family returned home and heard the story of the crimes from the two women.

Other negroes are said to have revealed the hiding place of Williams to the sheriff. The accused man had been a farm hand on the plantation where the assault and shooting happened.

BLACKS FATALLY BURNED ACTING FOR THE "MOVIES"

Tampa, Fla., November 29.—Will Jones, a negro, died here today from the effect of burns received in a mob scene put on by moving picture makers. Henry Makers, another negro, is expected to die from injuries received at the same time. Flimsy clothing worn by the negroes, who were depicting cannibals in the wilds of Africa, caught from torches which they were using in doing the torch dance. Makers saved himself by jumping into a stream nearby.

WM. P. JACKSON SUCCEEDS RAYNER

Republican Committeeman for Maryland Appointed to the Senate by Governor.

Baltimore, Md., November 29.—Governor Goldsborough tonight announced the appointment of William P. Jackson, republican national committeeman from Maryland, to succeed the late United States Senator Isidor Rayner.

He will serve until the legislature, which meets in January, 1914, fills what will then be an unexpired term of three years. The legislature at that time also will elect a successor to Senator John Walter Smith (democrat), whose term will expire in 1915.

Mr. Jackson, who is a resident of Salisbury, has been closely associated with the governor, socially and politically. In the recent presidential campaign he was the leader of the Taft forces in this state.

Mr. Jackson is 44 years old and a business man of large and varied interests, chief of which is the manufacture of lumber. He is reputed to be a millionaire.

His entry into active politics dates from 1908, when he became republican national committeeman for Maryland. Mr. Jackson's father, William H. Jackson, served three terms in congress. His uncle, the late Elihu E. Jackson, was democratic governor of Maryland from 1888 to 1892.

Washington, November 29.—The appointment of William P. Jackson, a republican, as the successor to the late Senator Rayner, of Maryland, reduces the supposed democratic majority in the new senate to a point very near the dividing line. Before Senator Rayner's death the democratic leaders counted on having 49 votes, or one more than a majority of 96. Now they can count on only 48 votes, with the democratic vice president to cast the deciding vote in case of a tie.

AFTER PHONING BROTHER HE COMMITS SUICIDE

New York, November 29.—After telephoning to a brother that he was about to commit suicide, William A. Richardson, member of a well-to-do and socially prominent family, shot himself while standing before a mirror in his apartments tonight. Charles T. Richardson, the brother, rushed to the apartments and with several policeman, forced the door. They found William A. Richardson dead. In a note beside the body were instructions to have a library book, "Misery and its Causes," returned.

Shot While Hunting.

Greensboro, Ga., November 29—(Special.)—Clifford Patrick, who lives near Watkinsville, was out hunting with some of his friends, and after crossing a branch his foot became entangled in some vines, throwing him upon some large rocks. He dropped his gun, and, the hammer striking the rock, caused one barrel to be discharged. The entire load penetrated the young man's leg between the hip and knee, breaking the bone. He is doing as well as could be expected.

NEW POWER PLANT BACKED BY HURT TO ENTER ATLANTA

Throws Defi at Arkwright at Committee Meeting.

"PRESENT RATES TOO HIGH"

Denied Permit for Private Plant for Office Building. Will Seek Franchise.

A public service power corporation with Joel Hurt, president of the Atlanta Realty corporation behind it, will spring from the opposition, which Preston Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company, raised Friday against Hurt's attempt to get a permft from the street committee of council to erect and operate a $150,000 power plant in connection with his $2,000,000 Edgewood avenue building project.

He declared that if he does not get a permit to operate the plant as a private enterprise he will take up President Arkwright's suggestion, organize a public utility corporation, put in a larger plant, and enter the entire Atlanta field as a competitor to the Georgia Railway and Power company.

"I'll get under their shirts," Mr. Hurt declared with emphasis, "and it won't only be a power utility. It'll cost them more than they would lose by this private enterprise to block this project. Why shouldn't I, or any other citizen have the right to build a power plant, if we can make electricity for one-third less than this company does?"

Criticises Capital Stock Increase.

And Mr. Hurt said other things about the Georgia Railway and Power company to emphasize his threat to organize a competitive corporation. He rapped the company for what he characterized as ingratitude, saying that it was he who fought against increasing their franchise tax. He also criticised the recent increase of the capital of the company.

"It is really amusing to hear of this opposition," said Mr. Hurt, "especially in view of the operations of the company. I don't propose to pay the rates, and I put President Arkwright on notice that I will apply for a franchise, if necessary.

"When the Georgia Railway and Power company increased its capital from $2,000,000 to the enormous amount of $80,000,000, I went to Arkwright and Spalding and asked them how they proposed to milk the public by making the increase.

"I can make electric current for one cent per kilowat per hour—2 cents less than the Georgia Railway and Power company is paying. They can enjoin me if they want to, but I'll get under their shirts in the long run, and it will be costing them a whole lot more than they would lose from the loss of contracts for supplying power to my buildings."

Any Private Permit Illegal.

City Attorney James L. Mayson informed the street committee that it would be illegal to grant a permit to any private citizen to cut through the streets to supply a private want. President Arkwright, of the power company, declared that it would be an injustice to his corporation to grant a permit to Mr. Hurt, who would not be burdened with a franchise tax, or be under the restrictions and limitations the city puts on public service corporations.

"If Mr. Hurt wants to use the streets for a public service, let him get a franchise, and go about it in the right way," insisted President Arkwright. "If the city gives him the right to cut through the streets to connect other private property with the power house, it would be compelled to do the same thing for other private individuals."

It was the suggestion fired by President Arkwright at Mr. Hurt that aroused the latter, and brought from him a threat to organize a corporation and go after a franchise. The railway company had Luther Z. Rosser, Sr., its attorney, to give an opinion. Attorney Rosser ridiculed the threat of Mr. Hurt. He declared that he was "playing a game of bluff."

"They'll see whether it is a bluff or not," Mr. Hurt retorted.

Plant for New Hurt Buildings.

Council's street committee was petitioned by Hurt and the Atlanta Realty corporation for authority to cut through Edgewood avenue, Exchange place and Ivy street. They own seven pieces of real estate on the three streets, and are erecting a $750,000 17-story building on the triangle site, and propose to install a power plant to cost $150,000 additional in the basement of the building.

The six other sites will be adorned, according to Mr. Hurt, with buildings which will cost approximately $2,000,000. The power generated by the proposed plant of Mr. Hurt would be supplied to seven buildings owned by himself and associates. The Equitable building, corner Edgewood avenue and Pryor street, is also said to be one of the buildings to be supplied from the plant.

The committee took no action on the application, which was amended on the suggestion of council at its last meeting. The committee will give its decision in a few days. Mr. Hurt explaining that he had a New York engineer on the ground and that the work on his new skyscraper and electric plant had reached a point where quick action on the part of the city was necessary.

"I'm in Earnest," Says Mr. Hurt.

After the meeting adjourned, Mr. Hurt declared that he was positively in earnest, and intimated that he would go on with his power plant regardless of what action the city might take. He also declared that if the Georgia Railway and Power company was seeking competition he would see to it they had all they wanted, power and railway.

Mr. Hurt was president of the old railway and power company, which was merged with the present corporation. He says that the rates of the new corporation are excessive, and he won't pay them.

LONG IS IDENTIFIED AS MISSING BANKER

Minnesota Officials Coming for West Point Man Held as Parker, Fugitive Embezzler.

Pinkerton officials said yesterday that Charles A. Long, the imprisoned West Point business man, had been identified beyond a doubt as the absconding H. W. Parekr, fugitive vice president and cashier of the Winnebago, Minn., Bank of Commerc

The report of the Pinkerton identification experts was made Friday morning. The prisoner tallies with the description, and although he maintains that he is not the embezzling bank official, the Pinkertons are so sure of their identification that Sheriff Breers, of Blue Earth, Minn., has been notified of the arrest, and is hurrying to Georgia to carry t man back to Winnebago.

Mrs. Long, wife of the prisoner, is said to have been Florence Bauer, a well-known actress, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio. She last night made emphatic denial of the charges against her husband. Mr. and Mrs. "Long" were married in Atlanta in 1912 in Justice Girardeau's office. She has a 3-year-old child by a former marriage.

Long, since his arrest, daily manages his business affairs from his cell in the county jail. His theater is being operated, and his other enterprises have been placed in charge of friends and assistants.

Late Friday night The Constitution received from its West Point correspondent word that Long had admitted that he once lived in Minnesota near Winnebago, but further than that would not talk for publicatio News was also received that the president of the Winnebago bank was accompanying Sheriff Freers to Georgia and would reach West Point some time Saturday.

Shortage $20,000.

St. Paul, Minn., November 29.—Kelzey Chase, state bank examiner for Minnesota, when shown a dispatch tonight, stating that H. W. Parker, the former Minnesota banker was under arrest, said his shortage would reach about $20,000, instea of $50.000.

"Parker disappeared on April 21, 1912, shortly after my department began an investigation of the books of the bank with which he was connected," said Mr. Chase. "He closed the bank on May 2. He left his wife at Winnebago."

New Street Signs.—Two hundred street signs will be put up in the tenth ward. They will cost the city 47 1-2 cents each and will be furnished by the Dixie company under proposals accepted by the street committee yesterday afternoon.

SHE COMPLETES WORLD TOUR AND GETS MARRIED IN ATLANTA

Miss Helen Heath Ferguson, an 18-year-old society girl of New Orleans and daughter of T. J. Ferguson, a wholesale druggist, reached Atlanta three weeks ago after a tour of the world with her mother and a small party of friends. One of the first men she met on reaching here was Louis Samuel Brooke, a young business man connected with the Atlanta Retail Credit company. She and Mr. Brooke were married yesterday afternoon.

No one in Atlanta except two or three friends of the groom knew of the wedding until after Rev. A. A. Little, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, had performed the ceremony. The bride then returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Chapman on urt street, where she had been visiting, and Mr. Brooke went to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Brooke, on Currier street, to announce to them that he had wedded the young lady. His parents thought he was joking and refused to believe it.

The New Orleans girl was due to leave for home today and will carry out her original plan. Her husband will go with her to be introduced to her parents, who as yet know nothing of the wedding.

5 MONTHS TO NAB THE DYNAMITERS

Pacific coast, was James B. McNamara, and that J. W. McGraw, wanted for explosions in Peoria, Ill., was McManigal. I located McManigal's house in Chicago and so traced him to the Northwestern station, where, on November 5, I pointed him out for operatives to follow and to see with whom he was connected. From time to time I received information from the hunting camp in Wisconsin.

Again Met Hockin.

"Two weeks later I again met Hockin in Chicago. He told me he was satisfied John J. McNamara was doing the dynamiting for what money there was in it, and he said he did not like it, for he was afraid it would ruin the union.

Later, William J. Burns, Hockin and myself met. William J. told Hockin the result of the investigation on the Pacific coast, which was that Olaf A. Tveitmoe and Anton Johannsen, of San Francisco, had arranged with Caplan and Schmidt to blow up The Times building. William J. asked Hockin if he knew anything on this point.

"Hockin replied he knew nothing about what Tveitmoe did, as that was a matter handled on the coast. Hockin did say, however, that Tveitmoe and Johannsen had arranged to blow up William J. in Seattle or San Francisco by placing a bomb in a room next to his room at a hotel."

Otts and Damon testified about following the dynamiters to the Conover hunting camp.

Photographed Dynamiter.

Otts said once he found James B. intoxicated and "got pretty well acquainted with him." He also said he took photographs of the dynamiter. When the dynamiters left Conover, he said, he did not know where they went.

"When you were following them around camp, looking at them through fieldglasses and talking to them in the lodging house, didn't you know what they were suspected of?" was asked Damon by the defense.

"I had no information as to what they were wanted for, but I had an idea," replied Damon.

"You were just obeying orders to report on their doings?"

"That's all."

"You weren't ordered to make any arrests at that time?"

"No."

Identified by Girl.

As the youngest witness yet to testify, Miss Cleo Beard, 14 years old, picked out from the forty-five defendants at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today, two men whom she said she saw shortly before an explosion at North Randall, Ohio, on March 25, 1911. In that explosion a ore conveyor was blown up.

The little witness, garbed in a pink dress, climbed the high witness chair and looking toward the accused "bomb plotters" told her story. She said with her sister she was going along a lonely road toward her home at North Randall.

"It was just before dark," she said. "On the road we met the men, who were carrying a box between them. The men were coming toward Randall from the direction of Cleveland. One of them had a funny face."

"A funny face?" asked District Attorney Miller.

"Do you see him in the courtroom?"

"Yes, that's him," replied Miss Beard, pointing to George Anderson, of Cleveland, a defendant.

"He's the one that carried the box. And there's another one," she added, pointing to Peter J. Smith, of Cleveland.

"We had not been home more than an hour when the explosion, a mile away, knocked the dishes off the table."

Laura Beard, 18 years old, also identified the men.

Anderson and Smith, iron workers, are accused by the government with having blown up the North Randall job because it was erected on the "open shop" basis.

The box the sisters testified they saw in the hands of Smith and Anderson was produced in court and was identified by other witnesses as having been found in the wreckage of the explosion.

With the examination of its 535th witness, the government practically completed its case today, although the district attorney said he would call a few more witnesses to testify on minor points. The defense then will begin.

EAST APPRECIATES GROWTH OF SOUTH

Says Robt. F. Maddox, Discussing Development Planned by Seaboard Directors.

'Southern people themselves do not realize the wonderful effect of the growth and prosperity of the south as do the keen financiers of the north and east," says Robert E. Maddox, who has returned from the organization meeting in Baltimore of the directors of the Seaboard Air Line railway.

"All of the directors of the road were optimistic of the future of the south and the value of property here, and at the dinner which S. Davies Warfield gave the directors at the Maryland club the topic of conversation was the coming growth of this section. I could easily appreciate the opinion of these financiers when I heard men like Norman B. Ream, who is easily worth $60,000,000, say that they believe that this section will have a greater increase during the next ten years than any other part of the United States, and that they were anxious to invest their capital here. James A. Blair and Benjamin Strong, Jr., were others among the capitalists present who spoke in glowing terms of the south.

"All of them are ready to co-operate with southerners in developing the section, and they believe that from the opening of the Panama canal the south Atlantic and gulf states will particularly benefit.

"The Seaboard is now practically controlled and operated by southern men," added Mr. Maddox, "and its executive committee is considering the expenditure of $5,000,000 in improvements along the line of the road which touches the important cities of seven southern states. New and modern dining cars will be the first improvement; they have already been ordered and will soon be installed on the system."

INSPECTOR FOR CITY PLUMBING

The health board, at its meeting held yesterday, recommended the creation of the office of chief plumbing inspector at a salary of $2,400 per annum and the appointment of five assistants. The ordinance was framed by Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, and has been suggested as a means of putting Atlanta's plumbing in the hands of men qualified to do the work.

The ordinance will go to the committee on ordinance and legislation which meets Monday afternoon prio to session of council. It is the result of a decision of the supreme court which showed that the city was not getting as much revenue as it should under the present loose system of inspection. The ordinance will give the inspector the authority to examine applicants for plumbers' licenses and will enable the city to keep a record of all engaged in the trade in the city. The inspector is to be under the supervision of the health board.

The board also took up the poultry ordinance which was framed by Dr. Claud Smith, city bacteriologist, and which was tabled by council. Dr. Smith said that the ordinance was favored by the wholesale commission merchants and grocers and declared that it was an important step in safeguarding the health of the city. Council would not adopt the ordinance because a majority of the members were under the impression that it would put the poultry business in the hands of the wholesale dealers and packing houses and would put the price of poultry up from 15 to 20 per cent.

The board of health adopted a resolution urging council to reconsider the ordinance.

SCHOOL SYSTEM IS CONDEMNED

paper read by Dr. Charles E. Boyd on "The Child's Welfare," and on papers which were to have been read on other matters pertaining to children and their school life.

When the discussion had waxed warm, and the charges mentioned above had been made, Dr. L. B. Clarke, president, said that if the present educational systems were kept up there would be more insane asylums than schools.

What Is Wrong With the Schools?

It was claimed that the children were not given enough fresh air; that they were kept in school too long; that they were not allowed enough freedom of action; that there was not fresh air in the schoolrooms; that they were not properly fed at home; that they were improperly graded; that the artificial ventilation in the schoolhouses was a miserable failure.

Dr. Toepel said that it might be better to grade the children physiologically instead of chronologically. He said that society was much to blame for insisting upon a higher education, and that if more children were educated to work than to be literary the world would be better off. He claimed if the people demanded less school hours that the board of education, as well as both the teachers and children, would be only too glad to make the change.

The result of the discussion was a movement to begin a campaign for hot lunches in all the schools, and to secure a direct school taxation.

Among the speakers who took part in the discussion were Dr. R. R. Kime, Dr. Clarke, Dr. Boynton, Dr. Linholm, who is here to investigate the city's sanitation and schools; Dr. Theodore Toepel, Dr. Claude Smith, the city bacteriologist, and a number of ladies.

ZAPATA KILLS PEACE ENVOY

Leader of Mexican Rebels Carries Out Sanguinary Threat Made to Government.

Mexico City, November 29.—Emiliano Zapata, the insurgent leader, carrying out a recent threat that he would put to death any additional peace envoys sent by the government to treat with him, a few days ago passed the sentence of death on two men who had approached him on behalf of the government, according to news received here today from Excuautla, Morelos. One of the men was shot. The other escaped.

A dispatch to The Emparcial from Vera Cruz says that W. W. Canada, the American consul, has informed the correspondent of The Emparcial that the United States battleships Kansas, Michigan, Vermont and South Carolina soon will visit Vera Cruz. The news has caused apprehension here as it is considered unusual that naval visits of courtesy should be in such strength.

THE VALIANTS of VIRGINIA

A GREAT SUCCESS

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES

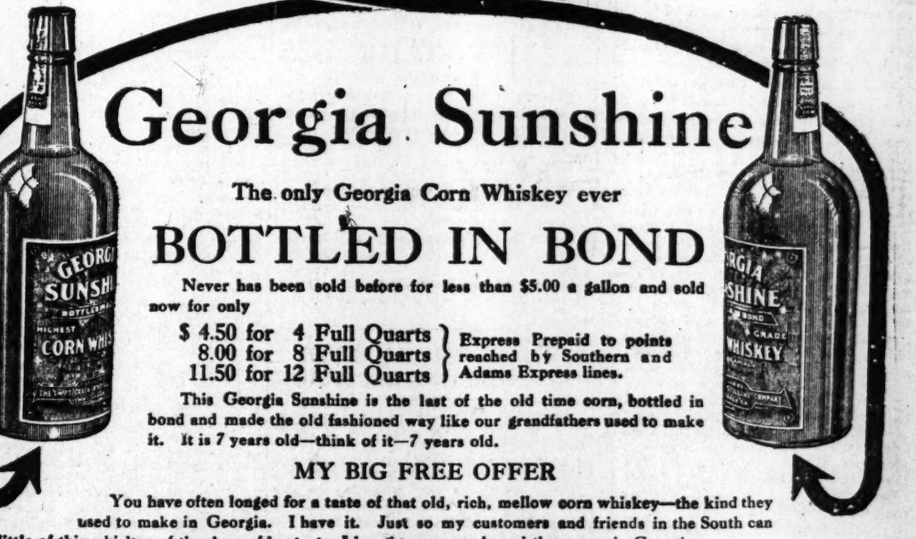

More thoroughly characteristic of its author than even her great success, Satan Sanderson, the new novel, The Valiants of Virginia, is Hallie Erminie Rives from the first word to the last. Charming in atmosphere, original and striking in its character values, it should take high place among the Rives romances, if not indeed the highest place.

Never has its author shown a more ardent purpose, a more spirited execution, greater facility of treatment. It is richly and variously colored, and it is marked by the greatest dynamic energy and brilliancy of phase.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR SHORT TERM

Senators and Representatives Are Flocking Into Washington.

Senator Bacon, as Presiding Officer, Is Arranging Plan of Procedure for Next Monday.

Washington, November 29.—How to dispose of one billion dollars' worth of annual appropriation bills and transact other general legislation in twenty-six days, is the problem worrying Speaker Champ Clark and associate managers of the house of representatives. Republican Leader James R. Mann, just back from Panama, dropped in today to discuss with the speaker prospects for the three months' session.

"We didn't make any plans for the session," said Mr. Mann later.

Speaker Clark agreed that no plans for the future had been considered.

But 26 Free Days.

"There are actually only about twenty-six days for work on appropriation bills and general measures," said the speaker.

"There are ninety-two days in the session. Take out thirteen Sundays, fourteen Christmas holidays, thirteen Mondays, which are devoted alternately to District of Columbia and pension legislation; thirteen Wednesdays, which are given to bills on the regular calendar, and thirteen Fridays, devoted alternately to claims and private bills, and there are left but twenty-six unencumbered days for general work."

Senators and representatives poured into Washington today from all directions. Senator Gallinger, the republican nominee for the office of president pro tempore of the senate, is expected tomorrow, and a republican senatorial caucus probably will be held soon after his arrival to determine whether the New Hampshire senator will be continued as the nominee or some one else chosen for the honor.

Interest in Personnel.

In case a caucus is held there will be more interest in the personnel of its membership than in the subject of discussion. Senator Dixon, of Montana, who was Colonel Roosevelt's manager, said today that he did not contemplate participation in another republican caucus, and Senator Poindexter has announced publicly his withdrawal from the republican party.

Senator Bacon, now the temporary presiding officer of the senate, has taken up with returning senators the question of procedure for next Monday. It is believed that after convening the senate will be officially informed first of the death of Senators Heyburn and Rayner, and that Senator Root then will officially announce the death of Vice President Sherman and present a resolution for immediate adjournment.

BROUGHTON'S OXFORD ADDRESS WILL BE PUBLISHED ON SUNDAY

Dr. Len G. Broughton's Thanksgiving address before Oxford university will be published Sunday in The Constitution. The fact that the former pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle has so attracted the attention of the English public and educational authorities since he assumed the pastorate of Christ church, London, that he should have been asked to make this address, is considered one of the greatest proofs of his work in England.

Since being in England Dr. Broughton has received many compliments on the work which he is doing in the church and one of the greatest occasions on which he has made a public address was that on Thanksgiving day. The address itself was one of the best that the pastor has made and one that is well worth studying.

Who was paid a notable compliment in being asked to address Oxford university.

SENATE MAY CO-OPERATE WITH HOUSE ON TARIFF

Washington, November 29.—Representative Oscar W. Underwood, democratic tariff leader of the house, when he begins tomorrow his conferences with house associates over the plans for tariff revision next spring, will be met with a suggestion from senate democrats that the senate be given a first-hand chance at the framing of the tariff bills for the Wilson administration.

A plan for co-operation between the democrats of the two houses long advocated by Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, has begun having attention from incoming members, and has secured considerable support. Chairman Underwood will be urged to make the senate an integral part of his tariff machine from the beginning of work on the bills for the special session. Democratic members of the senate finance committee are urging that that body and the house ways and means committee be converted, informally, into a joint body, and that the two houses work in harmony on the tariff legislation.

Representative Underwood's arrival in Washington tonight will bring tariff plans to the front. Members of the ways and means committee have been urged by the chairman to withhold expression of opinions; but many of them have publicly declared in favor of a revision of the tariff schedule by schedule, the plan that will be favored, it is believed, by Chairman Underwood. This number includes Representatives Hull, of Tennessee; James, of Kentucky; Dixon, of Indiana, and Peters, of Massachusetts.

The passage of legislation prescribing a literacy test for prospective immigrants into the United States by both house and senate at the coming session of congress was predicted today by Representative Burnett, chairman of the house immigration committee. Representative Burnett reported he had been insured of enough votes in the house to pass the measure and that there was little opposition in the senate.

W. M. SHROPSHIRE CROSSES DIVIDE

Highly Esteemed Judge, Aged 94 Years, Dies at Rome Home.

Rome, Ga., November 29.—(Special.) Judge William Monroe Shropshire, aged 94 years, the oldest person in Rome in point of years and residence, and one of the most prominent and highly esteemed, died at his home here this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Born in Cuthbert, Ga., in 1819, for nearly seventy years Judge Shropshire had been an important factor in the development of the city, having been connected with its growth as judge of the old inferior court, merchant and cotton buyer. For more than a half century he had been a member of the Cherokee lodge of Masons, and in 1892 celebrated his golden wedding.

Judge Shropshire's last journey from his home was on election day, when he cast a democratic ballot for president and he expressed gratification that his last vote had been for a successful democrat, Woodrow Wilson. Surviving him are two daughters, Miss Battie Shropshire and Miss Lillie Shropshire, of Rome; three sons, Edward F. of Atlanta, Ralph of New York, and Clyde of Nashville, Tenn. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is probable that the service will be the most largely attended ever held in the city.

RIVAL GROWERS CALL MEETINGS

Situation Serious on Account of "Night Rider" Outrages in Decatur County.

Bainbridge, Ga., November 29.—Citizens from throughout the country are invited in a call issued here today by Mayor J. W. Callahan to attend a meeting in this city next Monday night to formulate plans to alleviate the feeling arising between the large and small tobacco growers as a result of the recent burning of tobacco barns by "night riders."

Information was also received here today that the small tobacco farmers have called a meeting for Attspulgar, Ga., on the Florida-Georgia boundary line, on December 13. No announcement has been made as to the purpose of the meeting of the small growers.

The larger growers belong to the American Tobacco Summatra company, which was formed three years ago. It has been claimed that their consolidation resulted in the smaller grower getting a lower price for his tobacco.

Guards have been placed around the barns of the members of the large association since the five burnings in this county, Decatur, and Gadsden county, Florida. Detectives also have been employed to investigate the burnings and place the responsibility. The situation is regarded as serious.

JOHN H. GREACEN DIES ON YACHT OFF SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—On board the gasoline yacht Lodona, where he and his two brothers spent most of their time during the winter cruising southern waters, John Henry Greacen, of New York, a retired rubber man, died suddenly tonight at Thunderbolt.

The three brothers, said to be the only living members of the family, had finished their supper when Mr. Greacen was stricken. A physician was summoned from Savannah, but Mr. Graecen was dead when he arrived. The visitor had been a sufferer with heart disease, but he had not complained of feeling ill during the evening, and appeared in his usual spirits. He was 55 years old.

The body will be taken by the surviving brothers to Newark, N. J., for interment.

FIND REMAINS OF BIRD 3,000,000 YEARS OLD

New York, November 29.—Parts of a giant bird, which winged its way over North America 3,000,000 years ago, have just been brought to the American museum of natural history by Professor Walter Granger, who has been making fossil investigations in Wyoming. The bird, according to Professor Granger, was the largest feathered creature that ever existed in North America.

The fragments brought here consist of the bones of the feet, found in the Big Horn basin, east of Yellowstone park.

TAKES A CHANCE ON UNCLE SAM'S HONESTY

Denison, Texas, November 29.—A letter with a $1 bill attached to the outside of its envelope was received yesterday by a patron of the Denison postoffice from T. F. Frank, of Whitesboro, Texas. Frank stated in the letter than he was sending the money in that way because he was sure that Uncle Sam was honest.

IVY GRADE CHANGED TO PROTECT CITY

New Plans Approved to Avert Damage Liability to Sacred Heart Church.

The change in the grading of Ivy street, made necessary to protect the city from liability for damage to the property of the Sacred Heart church, was approved by the street committee of council yesterday afternoon. The change comprehends a modification of the profile drawn by Chief R. M. Clayton, of the engineering department, and provides for a rise of four feet at Baker and a fall of two feet at Peachtree.

The street committee approved the plans after hearing discussions from a majority of the property owners. The committee showed a disposition to adopt any change that would meet with the approval of a majority of the property holders, especially those living between Baker and Peachtree, where the dip is greatest.

It is expected that there will be protests of owners of property at Baker street. The grade agreed upon was suggested by Joel Hurt, the contractor, and although it is said that it will cost the city a little more than $1,000 additional for building walls from Baker street north, it is conceded that it will not only make the street more attractive, but that the value to the property will be inestimable.

Property Owners Confer.

A conference among property owners was held in the office of the city engineer while the street committee was discussing other matters. It was agreed that the most important change would be between Baker and Peachtree. Some of the owners objected to the rise at Peachtree to make the street conform with the profile of that thoroughfare, it being argued that by raising the grade the street would not have a sufficient slope to carry off the water.

The change will raise the grade in front of the Sacred Heart property to within 6 inches of the floor level of the church. It also gives the street a slope to take the water to Peachtree, where it can easily flow into the catch basins.

Whether council will authorize the changing of the grade at an additional cost is another matter. The city has no more funds and council cannot make provision for the additional expense. The Ivy street owners agreed to raise $30,000 for the grading, allowing an additional $5,000 for just such an emergency as confronts the city now, and it is not considered likely that the owners will allow the project to be blocked now for the lack of $1,000 or $2,000. The city engineer says that he can commence work at Decatur and work without interruption until Baker street is reached, and by that time the money will be in hand. The change would not cause a delay in getting the convicts to work on the street.

Several Protests Heard.

Protests were heard against the city agreeing to a 20 per cent grade in front of the Kreigshaber property, and a similar protest was made against a 10 per cent grade against the Stephens property. Alderman Ragsdale suggested that the committee agree to the modification of the grade at the church property and leave it to council to adjust the other portions of the street. Councilman Smith concurred in the suggestion.

Councilman Orville Hall declared that the committee should take time to see that it was doing the job properly.

"If we had the nerve to do the thing right in the beginning we would have avoided all this trouble," he said.

Attorney Jack Spalding appeared on behalf of the Sacred Heart church. He said that the church was not willing to do anything that would serve to endanger the project by delays. He said that the church would waive its claim for damages if the city would agree to put the grade 6 inches below the floor level of the church. He said the city could start work and that a sort of gentlemen's agreement could be entered into as to the grading in front of the church.

The proposition will go before council next Monday afternoon with the recommendation of the street committee that the grade be raised in conformity with the modified profile drawn by Mr. Hurt and agreed to by a majority of the owners.

If you paid $125 for the only other uniform set of O. Henry in existence, this doesn't interest you. Otherwise you can't afford to miss it.

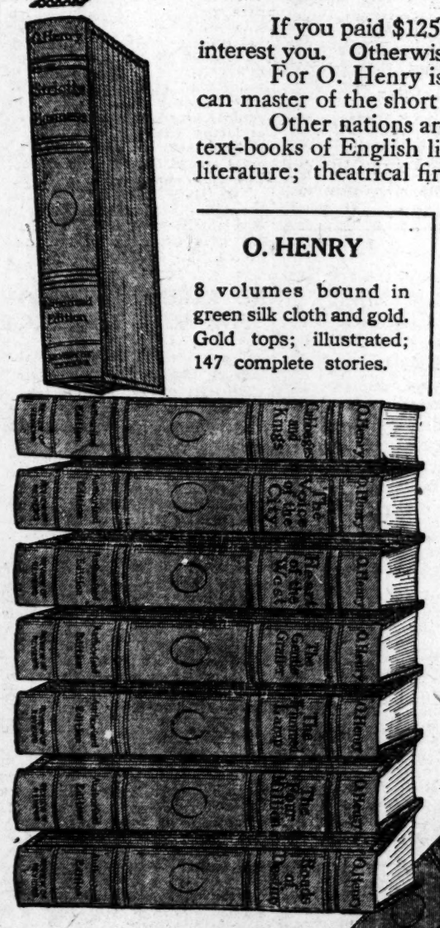

For O. Henry is the American Kipling, "the American de Maupassant," the American master of the short story—the founder of a new style, a new literature.

Other nations are going wild over him. Memorials to him are being prepared. The text-books of English literature are including his stories; colleges are discussing his place in literature; theatrical firms are vying for rights to dramatize his stories.

Each story—vivid, human, real—may lay bare some cruel social wrong, or just a quaint, dear glimpse of good and happiness and fun. "The Arabian Nights of New York"—his tales of the big city—catch the glamour, the romance, the elusive seething spirit of the "Four Million."

Each story may spring a surprise, or lead you gently along, only to turn and laugh at you in the end.

If we could show you a list of the 147 stories in this wonderful set, you would send the coupon at once just for the promise of interest in the bare titles.

THE CHALLENGE OF BELLE SOMMERS.

Tomorrow the preachers of Atlanta will urge upon their congregations the taking up of what is virtually a philanthropic challenge issued by Belle Sommers—once a fallen woman of this city. The Men and Religion Forward movement, with its allies, is sponsor for the campaign of rehabilitation that followed the closing of the "houses in our midst." The work is widespread and comprehends three phases, as explained elsewhere by Marion Jackson. The fund immediately involved is $12,500. All of it is to be expended in the reclamation of women in some one of the multifarious features of the task. The nucleus, $2,500, was given by Belle Sommers for the founding of a Martha's Home, as a link in the chain of similar institutions. Here is pre-eminently a pulpit-topic, with a religious and an ethical appeal. What will the public do with it, regardless of its judgment as to the wisdom of the policy that abolished the isolated district!

The woman gave every penny of her fortune, not the Biblical tithe, but all of it, that a refuge might be established for fallen women—an oasis in the desert of vice and ostracism, where they might regain self-respect, forget the old by-paths and become again useful, and not parisitical, members of society. Those to whom she talked were candid with her. They did not conceal the obstacles confronting her footsteps. A woman of ordinary purpose might have been deterred. She was not. "I have thought over this thing," she said. "I know exactly what I'm doing. I know, better than anyone else, the life the scarlet woman leads, her sufferings and, finally, the penalty. I want to give every cent I possess, and myself, to the task of helping as many as I can."

This, from a woman of this type, is a challenge to every bona fide religious and civilized element in the community.

The startlingly dramatic example of this woman, who has tasted the dregs of life, puts the humanitarian standards of Atlanta on trial. She—once a pariah—has given her all in the cause of what she deems as redemption. If Christianity, if ethics, if religion of every demonination and creed, cannot meet her more than half way, what becomes of our pretensions to uplift and enlightenment?

How will the good people of Atlanta answer the challenge of Belle Sommers?

NO NIGHT-RIDING FOR GEORGIA.

It is incumbent upon the authorities of Decatur county, Georgia, to put down now and with a stern hand the "night rider" outrages recently reported by The Constitution. This state wants no repetition of the long-sustained anarchy growing out of similar conditions in Kentucky and other tobacco-growing regions of the southern states.

We do not undertake to say whether the men who perpetrated, or caused to be perpetrated, this incendiarism have just cause for grievance. That is an issue for the courts to decide, and it should be taken into the courts for adjudication. Both state and federal governments maintain legal machinery for the adjustment of disputes. If the parties responsible for the burning of the tobacco barns in Decatur have righteous complaint, they may rely upon the proper legal channels for protection. If they take redress into their own hands, they themselves become criminals, prejudice their cause and lay themselves amenable to justice.

Single instances of outlawry, such as represented in the Decatur county case, are bad enough. But the most dangerous feature is that the tendency to take the law into one's own hands is cumulative. Unless it is checked and punished rigorously, the perpetrators, emboldened by immunity, are likely to proceed to still further lengths. That is the chief menace of "mob law," and the arson practiced in Decatur is nothing but a phase of "mob law."

If leniency or laxity is shown in detecting and prosecuting the individuals involved, their offense will be duplicated. In a brief period, contempt for orderly methods of settling-divergencies will overspread the community. From the relatively small beginnings now manifest, the evils of feudism, bloody and defiant of the rights of society and property, will terrorize the entire county.

The one course for the authorities is to nip this threat in the bud. Backbone and pertinacity may be required. But it is infinitely better to employ drastic measures at present and stamp out the evil permanently than to let it assume the proportions of organized anarchy or guerrilla warfare in the midst of civilization.

EUROPEAN DYNAMITE.

All of Europe may now be said, speaking metaphorically, to be sitting over a keg of dynamite, with the war in the Near East as the fuse. Whether the latter is to be touched off, with the result of altering the map of the old world in a revolutionary manner, appears to rest with two countries—Austria and Russia.

Austria is opposed to Servia, one of the Balkan allies, having a port on the Adriatic sea. Servia, with a lordly disregard for the wishes of her big neighbor, has gone ahead and seized the coveted port—Durazzo. Austria has for some time been mobilizing her troops, as well as making frantic diplomatic representations. Now that Servia has taken the aggressive, will Austria proceed to open hostilities? That is one important question.

Another one is the attitude of Russia. The czar is assumed to be in sympathy with Servia and the rest of the Balkan coalition, the predominant influence of which is Slavic, like that of Russia. If Russia is minded to back up the claims of Servia, it may be that the long-feared European war will be precipitated. If Austria goes to war, it is likely she will be followed by the two other members of the triple alliance—Germany and Italy. That may bring into the field the three members of what is called the triple entente, England, France and Russia.

Diplomacy appears to be exerting its suavest as well as its most frenzied activities. In the meantime, it is a safe assertion that all of the great powers, while praying for the best, are preparing for the worst. Tension is at the breaking point, and unless soon relaxed the so-called "Christian" nations of Europe will stage an exhibition beside which Sherman's caloric definition will seem tame.

A CHANGE IN TENNESSEE JOURNALISM.

Southerners familiar with the manner in which The Knoxville Sentinel and The Chattanooga News have figured in the upbuilding and the progressive policies of Tennessee and the states contiguous, will be interested by the shift in ownership announced by press dispatches. Up to within a few days ago George F. Milton had been owner and publisher of both papers, and for fifteen years had associated with him Mr. C. B. Johnson. Mr. Milton has disposed of his stock in The Sentinel to Mr. Johnson, who now controls that property, and will henceforth devote his entire energies to The Chattanooga News.

Under the direction of these well tried veterans in the newspaper field, it is assured that both The Knoxville News and The Chattanooga Sentinel will expand even more notably their work for the development of their respective territories. Mr. Johnson, who has done excellent constructive work on The Sentinel and who enjoys the full confidence of the people of Knoxville, is a born "booster," and a builder of far and keen vision. Mr. Milton is known throughout the south as exemplifying the best journalistic ideals and standards.

Both of these progressive Tennessee cities are to be congratulated in that they will now have newspapers enjoying the undivided energies of men so thoroughly in touch with every phase of the profession, and so thoroughly alive to their obligations to their communities.

HUNDREDS JOIN IN CORN PARADE

Boy Scouts, High School Students and College Boys Asked to March.

Captain W. H. Leahy, grand marshal for the corn show parade to be held Friday afternoon, December 6, has extended an invitation to all the boy scout organizations in and around Atlanta to join this parade, and desires that they report to him at the state capitol Friday at 1 o'clock sharp.

Invitations to participate in the parade have also been extended to the Boys' High school through Superintendent W. M. Slaton, to the Tech students through President K. G. Matheson and to the cadets of the Georgia Military academy through Colonel J. C. Woodward.

All scout masters and the leaders of the organizations, which will engage in the parade, are requested to communicate at once with Captain Leahy at his office in the Georgia Railway and Power building, so that all necessary preliminary plans may be made.

The corn show parade is growing and promises to be one of the biggest Atlanta has seen in some time.

Tables for the corn show and canning club exhibits are now being built at the capitol, and all of them will be set in place Monday.

Chairman H. G. Hastings, of the corn show committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, will have personal charge of the installation of the exhibits on Monday, and will be assisted by the district agents for the corn clubs: Dr. William Bradford of Cedartown, J. Walter Hendricks of Augusta, J. K. Giles of Atlanta, G. V. Cunningham of Tifton and C. M. James of Columbus. G. E. Rice, agent at Augusta, cannot be here because of a district corn show which will be held in Augusta at the same time.

WORLD'S BUSINESS FOR YEAR IS $35,000,000,000

Washington, November 29.—This year the world's international business will reach the enormous total of $35,000,000,000, according to a report issued today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The estimate is made on official returns of exports and imports from virtually every commercial country in the world. The new figure will establish a record, for it is four billion dollars greater than the trade in 1910 and more than double that done in 1890, twenty-two years ago. Seventy leading countries furnished their figures to the government statisticians. Only Argentine and Russia reported decreases, both falling off sharply. The United States so far has shown a monthly increase of $18,000,000 over 1911.

The balance of trade (that difference of goods sold over those imported), still remains strongly with American manufacturers and producers, the figures showing that they enjoyed a balance on the right side of the ledger of approximately $16,000,000.

NEGRO'S LONG FIGHT FOR LIFE FINALLY ENDS

Waxahachie, Texas, November 29.—Burrell Oates, a negro who was hanged here today, was convicted of having murdered Sol Aronoff, a Dallas shopkeeper, eight years ago.

Oates, without money or influential friends, secured seven trials and was the cause of two changes in Texas statutes during his long and remarkable legal fight against the charge of murder.

Oates' fight for life was made all the more remarkable by the fact that every one of his seven juries found him guilty of murder and six of them condemned him to death. The other jury, being unable to agree over the penalty, caused a mistrial, although declaring the negro guilty. Technicalities, and at times more serious legal errors, have been used repeatedly to secure new trials for Oates.

The sixth trial was declared void because the jury, in writing its verdict, inadvertently omitted the words "In first degree" in finding Oates guilty.

NO RECOMMENDATION FOR AUTO PARKING LAW

The ordinance to regulate the parking of automobiles and vehicles on Whitehall street, resurrected at the last meeting of council, will be sent back without a recommendation from the street committee.

The matter was up yesterday afternoon before the committee, but Whitehall street merchants who promised to appear and give their side of the question, did not show up, so the committee decided that it would be best for the ordinance to be threshed out by council. The ordinance proposes to keep automobiles from parking on Whitehall to prevent congestion in the retail shopping district and the merchants oppose any move that will send automobiles to any other district.

AUTOISTS PITCHED OUT INTO DEEP SNOWBANK

Narrowly escaping death in an auto accident, Miss Gladys Miller, Miss Christine Hooper and Henry L. Collier, Jr., are thankful today that a Thanksgiving motor ride from the Tech-Clemson football game did not result fatally.

The autoi s were riding in Mr. Collier's machine by Ponce de Leon and Highland avenues, when the front wheels struck a dangerous depression in the pavement. The result was a wrecked automobile as the two young women were pitched from the machine and thrown into a snowdrift. Mr. Collier escaped unscratched. Only a few abrasions were sustained by Miss Hooper and Miss Miller. The machine was an almost complete wreck.

BARBER CLAIMS ESTATE OF AGED SPINSTER

New York, November 29.—Within a few hours after smoke suffocated to death an aged recluse, Miss Octavia Friederick, in her home in Brooklyn yesterday, Anthony Creckinto, a barber, who kept a shop in the house where the spinster lived in apparent poverty, related to the police a story in which he claimed to be sole heir to $300,000 left him in a will drawn by Miss Friederick two months ago.

The claimant said he had taken care of the bed-ridden recluse for years and that her will was made in gratitude. The will, he said, was locked in a safe deposit vault.

The fire in which Miss Friederick lost her life is believed to have been of accidental origin.

HOW FUND FOR RECLAIMING WOMEN WILL BE EXPENDED

From practically every pulpit tomorrow there will go appeals to Atlantans to aid in the effort launched by the Men and Religion Forward Movement to rehabilitate fallen women in this city. Dramatic emphasis will be given the plea by the fact that the nucleus of the fund of $12,500 to be devoted to this crusade, is the $2,500 given, as her whole fortune, by Belle Sommers, one of the conspicuous figures of Atlanta's tenderloin when the order closing the restricted district went into effect.

Marion Jackson, instrumentally identified with the Men and Religion Forward Movement, explained the channel into which the Sommers contribution would go, and the other details of the plan, as follows:

How Work Will Be Done.

"Ten thousand dollars is the amount to be given by the churches and the good people of Atlanta. Some of the churches have already raised the amounts allotted to them. One church, from which was asked $300, has already responded by giving in actual subscriptions $390. As fast as opportunity is being given, the members of churches are responding."

On being asked as to the use to which the $12,500 fund would be put, Mr. Jackson said:

"The $2,500 given by Mrs. Sommers will be invested and the income applied to the support of the Martha home. Of the $10,000 asked of the churches and people of Atlanta, $5,000 will be used for the equipment, support and maintenance of the Martha home, $2,500 of the amount going to rent and equipment and expenses of the home, and $2,500 being held to meet the needs of wome...

"Three thousand dollars will be used in moving the Florence home, where babies are cared for, from its present location on the street where the negroes are encroaching to the land surrounding the Florence Crittenton home and erecting a cottage there.

"Two thousand dollars will be used in making repairs and adding the necessary equipment to the Florence Crittenton home, where maternity cases are handled.

"Both in the Martha home and the Florence Crittenton home the object will be to give industrial training as well as care to the omen."

SAVANNAH HAS MANY WHO ARE AFTER FEDERAL JOBS

Savannah, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Savannah has another candidate for United States district attorney for the southern district of Georgia to succeed the Hon. Alexander Akerman, of Macon, when his official head is taken off by the victorious democrats.

For every federal office that the democrats will have to give in this section there are a number of active candidates. Fred T. Saussy, Esq., a graduate of Princeton, who took law lessons under Woodrow Wilson, is the last to enter the arena. He wants Mr. Akerman's place, and has the backing of a considerable percentage of the Savannah bar. Captain Robert M. Hitch is also strongly indorsed for the some office.

There are innumerable candidates for the post of collector of customs, regarded as the best office in this section. Colonel M. J. O'Leary, who commands the First Georgia regiment, who forced a settlement in the Augusta street car strike, who is a member of city council, and who is otherwise prominently identified with municipal, county, state and national politics, was the first entrant for this post, which will be vacant just as soon as the democrats take charge.

The present collector, the Hon. William R. Leaken, leaves for Washington this week to tender his resignation in person to President Taft, the resignation to become effective March 4. Mr. Leaken says he is a believer in the creed that to the victor belongs the spoils, and he doesn't propose to hold on to the job a day after the republican party retires. B. Palmer Axson, a cousin of the president-elect's wife, Thomas Halligan, secretary of the Chatham County Wilson-Marshall club; M. M. Hopkins and others want Mr. Leaken's post.

The scramble for the postmastership hasn't fully developed yet. The term of the present postmaster, Marcus Baker, Jr., has a considerable time to run. He is a democrat, and it has been suggested that he may not be removed simply for the purpose of giving the office to one who has been more actively identified with the party. George S. Haines, a former postmaster, is among the candidates for this place. Mr. Halligan, who really wants to be collector of the port, is also mentioned in this connection.

DR. JUNIUS W. MILLARD OPENS NOTABLE SERIES

A Sunday night series on "The Gospel of Manliness" will be started tomorrow night at the Jackson Hill Baptist church by the pastor, Dr. Junius W. Millard, appealing especially to the young and those who stay young. The various sermons of the series are attracting much attention, and Dr. Millard will be heard by capacity congregations each night.

Tomorrow night's theme will be, "The Creation of Character, an Essay in Self-Help." The other subjects will be, "How to Shake off Shackles, a Study in Habits," December 8; "The Normal State of Man, an Appeal for Faith," December 15; "The Supreme Ambition, or How to Help," December 22, and "The Through and Through Kind, or the Christian Who Wins Out," December 29.

The annual business meeting of the church will be held next Wednesday night, and is to be made an occasion for a gathering of the entire congregation. Refreshments will be served. The reports of the past year will show a remarkable growth under Dr. Millard's administration. The officers for the coming year will be elected, and plans of work outlined.

CORN CLUB BOYS HAVE PARADE AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—A novel procession had the right of way in Columbus streets today when the Boys Corn club of western Georgia marched down the main thoroughfares, headed by brass bands.

Twenty-six counties are in this district, and many of them were represented by good-sized delegations. Each county group was designated by a placard.

Marching along with the boys were numbers of confederate veterans who had themselves taken part in the corn-growing propaganda. The boys bore corn stalks, weighted with heavy ears of corn. Their exhibits were on view today at the Georgia-Alabama fair, now in progress, and are being judged so that prizes can be awarded the successful contestants. Representatives of the state and United States departments of agriculture are present.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

The most impressive of the public exercises of the Elks will be the observance of Memorial day, which takes place Sunday afternoon at the Grand opera house. The services are in honor of the dead members of the lodge, and all the members are requested to attend.

After a prelude by the grand orchestra, "Auld Lang Syne" will be sung, with the audience joining in. "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Crossing the Bar" will be sung by the quartet of the First Methodist church. Solos by Harry E. Bickford and Sylvia Spritz will be features of the musical service.

Dr. C. B. Wilmer will deliver the memorial address of the afternoon, and Rev. E. Dean Ellenwood will pronounce the invocation. The ritual of the lodge will be used in the opening ceremonies.

CATHOLICS ENLARGE CEMETERY AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Land has been purchased by the Catholics of Savannah that will enable them to double the size of the cathedral cemetery.

At the same time, it has been determined to consecrate the graves in the new section individually instead of blessing the entire plot of ground, as was done when the old cemetery was established.

Under the new plan, non-Catholic husbands and wives and relatives of Catholics may be buried in the addition to the cemetery. Heretofore, only members of the Roman Catholic church could be buried in the cathedral cemetery, for the reason that all of the graves in the cemetery had been consecrated.

SIBERIA HAS RIVAL IN REFUGEES' STORIES

A number of refgugees from construction camp of the Tennessee Power company's dam, near Parksville, Tenn., reached Atlanta this week and, applying for aid at the Salvation Army headquarters, told stories of barbaric treatment while in employ of the construction company, that rivalled tales of Russian oppression.

In the last three years more than 150 refugees from Parksville have received aid from the local Salvation Army station, according to report. Each of the men told identical stories of cruelty, and many were afflicted with cuts and bruises to bear out their statements. Lawrence Cardenny, a 17-year-old youth from Philadelphia, who appeared at the Army headquarters early this week, declared that 500 white men were held in bondage in the construction company camp, and that the sick and crippled were forced to labor as well as their able workmates.

Cardenny says he enlisted with the construction force as a skilled workman, but upon arriving in Tennessee from New York, he was forced, at the point of a gun, to labor with pick and shovel. Cardenny says that there are five camps in Parksville, and that each camp holds 100 or more laborers. Many of them, he says, brave the guards and their weapons to escape from the alleged bondage, and return to their homes.

BRUNSWICK TO HAVE BETTER BOAT SERVICE

Brunswick, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—With the steamer Cherokee sailing from Brunswick December 7, the Clyde Steamship company suspends their Brunswick service, which has been in operation since September of 1910, and with the sailing of the Rio Grande from New York on the same date, the Mallory line will resume service at this port after an absence of nearly five years. The Mallory line schedule will provide for two ships, giving Brunswick weekly service to and from New York, which service will be added to as traffic demands.

M. M. Riley, Jr., agent of the Clyde line, has been appointed agent of the Mallory line and will have practically the same corps of assistants as with the Clyde. The Mallory line operated into Brunswick for many years until 1908, when it was succeeded by the old Brunswick S. S. company and finally by the Clyde. The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic terminals will be used by the new line. It is expected the change will result in great benefits to this port, as the Mallory line controls a vast amount of interior business.

CAPTAIN WALKER IN RACE FOR MAYOR OF SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Captain George P. Walker, veteran of both the civil and Spanish-American wars and one of Savannah's best-known business men, consented today to become the administration candidate for mayor, Mayor George W. Tiedman having declined to run for re-election.

Captain Walker will be opposed by Captain Richard J. Davant, a former alderman.

Captain Walker for years commanded the historic Chatham artillery, the oldest military organization in the United States, being the commander during the war with Spain and fighting with it as a private during the confederate war. The organization is now commanded by his opponent, Captain Davant.

BONE SLIVER IN HEART CAUSES BOY'S DEATH

Philadelphia, November 29.—A particle of bone from a fractured kneecap, received while playing baseball, worked its way through his system to the heart of George Hayes, 15 years old, and caused his death in a hospital here yesterday. The boy's death was believed to have been caused by heart disease, until an autopsy revealed the sliver of bone.

REAL LOVE FOR HIS ALMA MATER

Louis D. Newton Shows Deep Pride in Mercer University.

Macon, Ga., November 29.—(Special.) Louis D. Newton's love for "Old Mercer" is so strong that he just could not bear to see the college chapel where he had met for three years with his fellows become dingy and dirty. Consequently he applied to President Jameson for permission to rekalsomine the walls of the chapel, and that is how he spent his Thanksgiving. While the other boys of the college were pelting each other with snowballs, eating turkey and calling on their best girls, Newton, with his overalls on, was industriously at work at his task. This morning, when the students assembled in the chapel they found the interior of the building clean and refreshing.

Mr. Newton is president of the Mercer Y. M. C. A. and anticipating a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. boys of four Georgia colleges at Mercer, December 5-8, he took the initiative step in cleaning up, and such a marked improvement did he make that President Jameson is expected to take the hint and have other buildings on the campus treated likewise.

Mayor on Hunting Trip.

Macon, Ga., November 29.—(Special.) Mayor John T. Moore, his son, Joe Moore, and T. O. Hand have returned from a three days' hunting trip in Baker county. The mayor reports that about 300 birds were killed, the greater number of which were left in Baker county, but a sufficient number were brought to Macon to supply the tables of several close friends.

Burglar Is a White Man.

Macon, Ga., November 28.—(Special.) Macon's mysterious burglar, who has terrorized the people of the city for several weeks, is a young white man. This became known when he was caught in a room on the second floor of the home of S. R. Boyington, 65 Arlington place. A negro servant went into the room to make up a bed early in the evening and there ran directly on the burglar. She grappled with him, but after a desperate fight the man broke away and jumped out the window and vanished. Members of the household reached the servant too late to be of assistance.

Chief of Police Chapman is taking every step possible to apprehend the thief and plain-clothes policemen have been stationed throughout the residence portion of the city.

Police Show Bad Feeling.

Macon, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Bad feeling which has existed between two members of the Macon police force for several weeks came near resulting seriously this morning. The policemen are Jake Caraker and Pat Pierce. The two men met in the assembly room at headquarters, and Caraker took Pierce to task for an alleged remark made by the latter. Just as Caraker was reaching for his gun he was grabbed by Lieutenants Drew and Davis. Both men were taken before the chief of police, where they were told to apologize to each other.

Holmes Would Be Marshal.

Macon, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—W. F. Holmes, Macon's city marshal, is a candidate for the office of United States marshal, to succeed George F. White. He is making an active canvass for indorsements, and these will be presented with his application.

Negro Will Be Hanged December 4.

Macon, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Oscar Clyde, the negro who killed his wife and brother-in-law at the union depot several months ago, and who has been sentenced to hang December 4, is indifferently awaiting his end. He declares that he has no dread of dying. He takes an occasional drink of whisky, however, to steady his nerves.

RICH INVITED TO BID ON GEN. SICKLES' GOODS

New York, November 29.—Seventy-five of the city's wealthiest men were invited today by Sheriff Harburger to appear at the Fifth avenue home of General Daniel E. Sickles, octogenarian, civil war veteran, December 4 and bid at auction on the general's personal property. The sale has been ordered to satisfy a $5,000 judgment.

"I believe that men of your standing will see to it that the general's property is not sacrificed at this sale," wrote the sheriff in a letter to J. Pierpont Morgan, Andrew Carnegie, Vincent Astor, John D. Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William K. Vanderbilt, John D. Archbold, Chauncey M. Depew and others.

Bric-a-brac, historical relics, antiques, rare books, manuscripts and other valuable articles which have been in the Sickles family for generations, will be sold.

"At a forced sale I am afraid they would bring but a small fraction of their real worth, and for that reason I have invited men who will appreciate them," explained the sheriff.

GOTHAM GANGSTERS IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake City, Utah, November 29. To the exodus from New York city after the convictions in the Rosenthal murder case local detectives attribute the presence in Salt Lake City at various times within the last two weeks of no less than fifteen members of the east side gang that were brought under fire at the trials of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and the "gunmen."

Although few of the visitors have registered, former visitors in New York have claimed to recognize "The Shine," "Pork Chops," "Little Bennie" and other well-known east-side characters. Most of the travelers have passed on toward the Pacific coast, but others are known to have obtained employment here.

PART OF SUM STOLEN FROM WARSHIP FOUND

Jersey City, N. J., November 29.—A chest containing $4,800 is in the possession of United States marshals here today, and the seizure is alleged to be part of $12,000 which several petty officers of the battleship Louisiana stole while the vessel was in New York harbor last October.

The money was found in a search of the house occupied by connections of George P. Davis, who was a commissary steward on the Louisiana. Davis is alleged to be one of the conspirators, and has been under court-martial, according to local federal officials, at Norfolk, Va.

Cashier Kills Self.

Paducah, Ky., November 29.—Emmett S. Bagby, assistant cashier of the City National bank of Paducah, shot and killed himself in the basement of the bank here today. Officials of the bank refused to make a statement, but it is known that two examiners are working on the institution's books.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Adds Healthful Qualities to the Food

Prof. Prescott, of the University of Michigan, explains why Royal Baking Powder adds healthful qualities to the food.

Testifying before the Pure Food Committee of Congress, the Professor stated that fruit acids were excellent articles of food and that of these cream of tartar, the acid of grapes, held rank with the highest both in itself and its effect in the process of leavening and baking. He regarded the results from cream of tartar baking powder as favorable to health. Scientists and hygienists are in accord with this opinion.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar.

TAFT LEAVES JOB FOR DEMOCRATS

Present Administration Will Take No Action to Supplant Russian Treaty.

Washington, November 29.—The Taft administration, it was made known today, does not intend to make any agreement or to enter into a modus vivendi to supplant the treaty with Russia, which expires January 1. The question of a new treaty and the subject of the treatment of American Jews traveling in Russia, which raised such a storm all over the United States last spring, will be one of the heritages that President Taft will leave to Mr. Wilson.

Although there have been conflicting reports as to the administration's plans toward Russia, a letter from the president to Simon Wolf, Washington representative of the United Hebrew congregations and the Order of B'Nai B'Rith, just made public, clearly indicated the president's intention of allowing his successor to settle this question. President Taft's letter to Mr. Wolf read as follows:

"I have your letter of November 22, in which you refer to the report that we are engaged in making a temporary agreement with Russia to take place of the agreement which we have abrogated. I beg to assure that we expect to make no agreement of this kind or of any kind. What we have been doing is examining the existing treaties and statutes and international law applicable to a situation like that which will occur after our treaty with Russia of 1832 shall cease to be. We do not expect to change by any agreement or so-called modus vivendi the status quo, which the abrogation of the treaty will leave on the first of January by its ceasing to have effect."

KOREANS RELATE TALE OF TORTURE

Officer in Attendance in Court Accused by Three of Alleged Conspirators.

Seoul, Korea, November 29.—Examination of the 106 Koreans charged with conspiring against Count Terauchi, Japanese governor general of Korea, was continued today when six of the accused were called to the witness stand.

All of them flatly denied complicity in the conspiracy and also related stories similar to those told by the other accused who had been interrogated as to torture by the police and as to threats of assault made to them by the procurator.

Three of the accused declared that one of the officers who had maltreated them was now in attendance in court. Counsel for the defense probably will call this man as a witness.

Judge Suzuki, president of the court, during the examination of the accused, almost invariably asks them what is their religion. Several have replied that they have no religion. Some declared they were Presbyterians and others said they were Catholics.

PET DOG ISN'T KILLED; THE COUNTRY IS SAVED

Washington, November 29.—International complications between the United States and Siam were narrowly averted by Pound Master Kuhn, of the "dog pound" of the District of Columbia, when early today he diplomatically refrained from chloroforming 'Kim," an English terrier, the property of Nai Choate, attache of the Siamese embassy.

"Kim" had given thanks yesterday to the extent of several turkey bones and feeling joyous and content strayed into the street without his muzzle. He was snapped up by an undiplomatic dogcatcher. Recognizing that his subordinate had seized the property of a guest of the nation, Mr. Kuhn promptly surrendered the pup when Nai Choate, in extreme agitation appeared at the pound in search of his pet. The affair will not be laid before the state department.

WHISKY AND MONEY SENT TO THE VOTERS

Bristol, Va.-Tenn., November 29.—Numerous voters received $10 bank notes with campaign literature through the mail just before the recent election, according to a report of the special grand jury empanelled by Judge Skeen at Big Stone Gap, Va., to investigate alleged election frauds. The grand jury also reported that several voters received shipments of whisky on election eve, which they had not ordered. No indictments were returned, however, as the grand jury was unable to ascertain who mailed the money.

It is said that an investigation of the sending of money to voters through the mails probably will be instituted soon.

INDIAN PRINCES PLAN TO BUILD 12 WARSHIPS

Bombay, November 29.—Three superdreadnaughts and nine first-class armored cruisers will shortly be presented to the British government by the independent rulers, princes and nobles of India if they can carry out successfully a plan recently drawn up by them to collect funds for the purpose among themselves.

It is suggested that the warships when presented be stationed in the Red sea, the Mediterranean and the Indian ocean.

HORSE SHOE IS LUCKY FOR CHICAGO THIEVES

Chicago, November 29.—For the second time within a week thieves early today hurled a horseshoe, wrapped in newspaper, through the window of a store on Michigan boulevard, loaded their plunder—$1,500 worth of furs—in an automobile and escaped.

Last week, what is believed to be the same gang of thieves, robbed a store of $2,500 in gems, after breaking the window with a horseshoe.

PATRICK TO FIGHT FOR "VINDICATION"

Not Yet Decided Whether He Will Contest For Rice Millions.

New York, November 29.—Whether Albert T. Patrick, who was pardoned by Governor Dix, will make a fight for the millions left by William Marsh Rice, the millionaire he was accused of having murdered, may be settled at a conference between Patrick and his counsel, former Judge William M. K. Olcott. Patrick was beneficiary under what was by him alleged to be Rice's will.

"I have not studied the will," Judge Olcott said today, "and until I have a chance to confer with Mr. Patrick, I cannot say what action we will take."

Patrick issued a long statement this afternoon in which he went into details of the two wills left by Rice. He said, however, that while he intended to "fight vigorously for his vindication," he had not decided whether he would contest the will probated which left the Rice millions to the Rice institute at Houston, Texas.

"Whatever action is taken," he said, "must be formal, and must only be taken after long consideration."

He added that in any event he was never a direct beneficiary under the will—merely a trustee, "that is my only contention," he said.

As to the charge that the second Rice will was a forgery, he said its falsity was borne out by the fact that the indictments for forgery and perjury against him and David Short and Morris Meyers, witnesses to the will, were dismissed by District Attorney Whitman after Jerome had failed to press them.

"Today," Patrick went on, "there is not a charge against me, and despite the cloud once placed upon them, both Short and Meyers are prosperous.

There have been frequent statements that these signatures of Rice's were superimposed upon each other, but I want to deny that now. Those signatures were all different, although each naturally resembled the others."

SOLD VOTES FOR ORGAN AND HOODOOED CHURCH

Steubenville, Ohio, November 29.—That an organ was given to a country negro church in exchange for votes of male members in a recent election here, was the inference drawn when the organ was returned today. Two negroes drove into town with the organ and deposited it in a principal street. Before they left one of the negroes said: "We don't want this organ, because it has been a hoodoo. Our church has done no good since it was put in. We do not intend to take it for our votes, and don't want it at all now."

Investigation of the alleged frauds threw county politicians in a state of excitement when it was reported a leading politician had told all he knew to the county prosecutor at a private hearing.

POLITICAL PRISONERS OF SANTO DOMINGO FREED

Washington, November 29.—Word reached the state department that all political prisoners in Santo Domingo have been released. Peace has been restored in the republic. The transport Prairie, with 750 marines, probably will be withdrawn from the island soon and replaced by a gunboat.

WOULD TEACH CHILDREN DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP

Louisville, Ky., November 29.—All general sessions of the Southern Educational association were abandoned this afternoon for department meetings, enabling delegates interested in kindergarten work, elementary education, normal schools, physical culture and other branches of educational work to specialize these subjects.

The duties of citizenship and the necessity of educating the children of the country so that these duties may be better understood were discussed in a paper by W. H. Hand, state high school inspector of South Carolina, at the general session in the forenoon. Other speakers were Dr. A. C. Ellis, of Austin, Texas; Mrs. Mary C. Roark, of Kentucky; Prof. W. E. Halbrook, of Choctaw, Ark., and Dr. H. R. McIlwaine, of Richmond, Va., and Prof. D. A. Graves, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

NEW YORK'S ZOO LIONS GET TASTE OF TURKEY

New York, November 29.—The lions in the New York zoo had a taste of Turkey yesterday for the first time in their lives. They have been brought up on dressed beef ever since they left milk diet, but Keeper Snyder thought they ought to share in the general Thanksgiving and bought a turkey for each of the den.

The animals were suspicious of the new food at first, but a few sniffs convinced them that it was all right and when they were through not even a wishbone was left.

TO HUNT FOR ARSENIC ON FOOTBALL FIELD

Denver, Colo., November 29.—Professor George W. Schneider, of the Colorado School of Mines at Golden, said yesterday that he will insist upon an analysis of the dirt on the college football field to determine whether it contains arsenic in sufficient quantities to have caused the death of his son, Lee Schneider, Thursday. Young Schneider, a player of the Mines team, suffered a slight abrasion of the left ankle in practice several days ago. Septicemia followed, causing death.

SNEED CASE GOES TO JURY TONIGHT

Fort Worth, Texas, November 29.—Argument in the trial of John Beall Sneed, charged with the murder of A. G. Boyce, Sr., will be concluded tomorrow afternoon and the case will be given to the jury tomorrow night.

Three attorneys spoke today, J. Y. Cummings and County Attorney Baskin for the prosecution and Walter Scott for the defendant. Scott described Sneed as "the man without a home" as a result of the elopement of Mrs. Sneed and A. G. Boyce, Jr. "aided and abetted by other members of the Boyce family."

Cone Johnson and W. P. McLean, Jr., will speak for Sneed and State Senators Odell and Hanger for the state tomorrow.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 38.

"If Any Man Would Come After Me, Let Him Deny Himself, and Take Up His Cross Daily and Follow Me."

Since the closing of the houses, one hundred and eighteen of the inmates have come to us.

At least seventy per cent of them were under eighteen years of age.

Clothing had to be given to thirty-five, the majority of whom were wholly destitute.

Five were unquestionably mentally deficient.

Fifty-one of the one hundred and eighteen were carried to their own homes, where they were welcomed and roeived.

Twenty-two were given positions where they can support themselves. Sixteen had to be placed in hospitals for treatment.

A boy, the son of one, and eight of the girls have been put in schools.

Twenty were cared for in private homes.

Thirty-five in institutions.

Thirty-six cases are still in our hands.

Shall women who have erred be given a chance to be saved?

Shall their babies and those of girls betrayed be given a decent opportunity to live?

You answer "Yes;" no danger of a negative; but grave peril of your forgetting that which must be done for the women and babies.

This woman, who knows from bitter experience, has not forgotten—the giving of money as well as sympathy.

Her gift is twenty-five hundred dollars.

What is yours for Martha's Home, where the fallen may come; for the Florence Crittendon Home, where babies may be born; for the Florence Home where babies may be reared?

There is no other place for them.

What will you do?

One hundred men spending, each, sixty cents a day for cigars together with two hundred spending, each, thirty cents a day for cigars, consume in smoke every month more by eleven hundred dollars than the amount of this woman's gift.

In twelve months time they consume in smoke forty-three thousand and two hundred dollars.

In a night more than the amount of her gift goes for the seeing of a play.

And five hundred women wearing hats, which cost an average of twenty dollars apiece, have upon their heads, not only the amount of her gift, but the equivalent of the entire sum asked to help babies and women in dire need—Ten Thousand Dollars.

Say not: "There is your wretched asceticism attacking smoking, the theater and the attractive dressing of women!"

Not so.

Only questioning.

Remember the Cross of Christ and answer.

Can three hundred men consume annually forty three thousand two hundred dollars for tobacco smoke---

Can three thousand dollars be spent for an evening's entertainment---

Can ten thousand dollars be worn on five hundred heads---

And men and women say impatiently, "Too many calls for charity" in a city of 200,000 inhabitants where women are sinning and suffering and their babies being neglected for the lack of money?

Last week five babies had to be refused admittance to Florence Home, a bare cottage in a quarter being given over to negroes.

Gaunt, unpainted and dangerous, on the city's edge, stands the Florence Crittendon Home with its mothers.

Fourteen babies are there today.

And Martha's Home, as yet, is only a dream in the heart of a woman who fell and rose again to follow her Savior.

You, too, will see it and do your share.

CLERK PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT OF $55,000

Pensacola, Fla., November 29.—William Bell, until a few weeks ago a trusted young clerk in the First National bank of Fensacola, today pleaded guilty in the United States court to the theft of $55,000 from the bank on September 18. Judge Sheppard sentenced him to two years in the federal reform school at Washington.

The 18-year-old bank clerk engineered one the shrewdest robberies in recent bank history and was not under suspicion when, conscience-stricken, he returned the money. In broad daylight, in the presence of a score of other employees in the bank, Young Bell succeeded in exchanging a bogus package for a package containing $55,000, which had been prepared for shipment by express.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR RED CROSS STAMPS

The annual sale of Christmas stamps for the benefit of the Red Cross work has begun and is meeting a hearty response from all who recognize the importance of the work. Two willing "victims" were seen yesterday at the entrance to the Equitable building, when Thomas B. Felder gladly bought his stamps from Mrs. Erskine R. Jarnagin while Mrs. Felder sold Eugene R. Black a supply for his Christmas mail.

Little Items of Georgia Cities

Injured While Hunting.

Cordele, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—While out hunting yesterday, John Nesbitt, one of the most prominent young men of the city, had the misfortune to have his left foot partially torn off by a load of shot, when his gun was accidentally discharged. An operation was necessary to remove a part of the badly mangled foot. Young Nesbitt was formerly from Albany, and is connected with the Georgia Cotton company here.

Wants Reward Increased.

Tallapoosa, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Mayor Pearce has sent an urgent letter to Governor Brown, asking a larger reward for Bose Cason, who escaped from the penitentiary a few weeks ago. Cason killed W. H. Meager, marshal of Tallapoosa, and was erving a life sentence. The city council of Tallapoosa will probably offer an additional $100 at its meeting the first of the month.

Blease Will Honor Requisition.

Waycross, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Officers here have received notice from Governor Cole Blease, of South Carolina, that he will honor the requisition papers issued by Governor Brown for B. C. Lee, a white man, wanted here on charges that grew out of his agency in Waycross for a Jacksonville, Fla., piano dealer. A deputy will go to Columbia for Lee this week.

To Inspect Naval Stores.

Brunswick, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—A party of forty business men and capitalists of Toledo, Ohio, many of them stockholders in the Yaryan Naval Stores company, this city, will arrive in Brunswick by special car Sunday for a stay of three days. The party comes to Brunswick for a general inspection of the naval stores plant. A number of social affairs have been planned for the Ohioans, including a barbecue on St. Simon's, at historic Frederica. On Tuesday night the Brunswick cotillion club will tender a german to the party at the Oglethorpe hotel. The visitors will be headed by W. J. Brailey, Jr., president of the Yaryan company.

Bankruptcy Suit.

Brunswick, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—One of the largest petitions in bankruptcy filed with Judge Max Isaac in some time is that of Walter G. Odum, of Odum, Ga., brought before the referee yesterday. The assets of the bankroupt concern, of which petitioner is head, are placed at $43,598.57, and liabilities $41,713. The hearing of the case has been set by Judge Isaac for December 7.

Protracted Meeting Closes.

Greensboro, Ga., November 29—(Special.)—For one week Rev. J. B. Gordon, of Covington, conducted a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church, which closes this week. Strong, forceful sermons have been preached twice a day, and the music has been unusually good, under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Armor and Rev. L. E. Dutton.

MANY LEADERS TO AID IN SELECTING CABINET

Hamilton, Bermuda, November 29.—President-elect Wilson has determined not to take the advice of one man only, but of the leaders of the democratic party generally on the question ofthe formation of his cabinet and in the selection of men to fill important official positions.

His invitation to William J. Bryan to meet him in conference at Princeton, it is thought, is only the forerunner of numerous invitations to other party leaders to meet him in a series of consultations in reference to his legislative program and appointments to office.

Power Company Hearing.—The state railroad commission will hear on Wednesday, December 4, the complaint against the Georgia Railway and Power company, the Georgia Power company and the Blue Ridge Electric company, which was filed some time ago by Attorney Harry A. Alexander, representing several litigants. The complainants, who were stockholders in the last-named company, allege that part of the securities have been misapplied. On December 6 the commission will resume the hearing of the Gainesboro Telephone company petition for authority to increase its rates.

There is bound to be a lot of wreckage strewing our valley of yesterday—but the wistful mist of glamorous memory obscures most of it!

KILLED BY NEGRESS IN SHOOTING GALLERY

Montgomery, Ala., November 29.—A young white man by the name of Fuller was shot and killed at Wetumpka last night by Ida Pruett, a negress and ex-convict, according to news that sifted into Montgomery today. The victim's full name has not been learned.

The woman is under arrest.

The killing occurred in a shooting gallery. One shot from a target rifle entered Fuller's neck. He lived thirty minutes.

The woman claimed the shooting was accidental, but it is charged that she was angered when Fuller requested her to permit him to try his skill at the target with the last bullet in the rifle she had been shooting.

SERVIA MOBILIZING AGAINST AUSTRIA

Vienna, November 29.—The assertion that Servia is mobilizing against Austria-Hungary is made today by The Reichspost. The entrenched positions near the town of Semendria, on the Danube, have been occupied by Servian troops of the Danube division. The Servian recruits belonging to the contingents due to be called up in 1913 and 1914 have been called out by the Servian war office and Christian prisoners among the Turkish troops captured are being induced to serve in the Servian army.

The weapons captured from the Turks are being hurriedly prepared in the great Servian arsenal at Kraguyovatz, where also ammunition is being manufactured in large quantities.

GOODBY, WEATHER MAN! HATE TO SEE YOU GO

Fair and warmer weather, after the snow and freeze of the middle of the week, is forecasted for today by "the local office of the United States weather bureau," as Willis L. Moore, chief of the department in Washington, asks that all newspapers refer to the local "windjammers."

In a card sent out to bureaus all over the country the head of the service requests that such common words as "weather man," "weather dopester," "observer" and "windjammer" be forgotten and that the local head of the station be referred to as the "section director" and that the bureau itself be carefully spoken of as "the local office of the United States weather bureau." Whether or not that might be sometimes abbreviated to "L. O. U. S. W. B.," he failed to state.

The snow which fell generally over this section was a splendid thing for the crops of winter wheat and rye, according to the "local office of the United States weather bureau," and the fall could not have come at a more opportune time for farmers.

Embezzler Is Sentenced.—H. G. Newman, aged 20, was sentenced to twelve months in the chaingang yesterday by Judge L. S. Roan, of the criminal division of the superior court, after the jury had found young Newman guilty of embezzling $1,099.10 from W. F. Wesley, a local money lender. Wesley prosecuted the man because he claimed that Newman had been acting as a loan agent for him among the employees of the Cherokee Life Insurance company and had appropriated the funds for his own use.

IT is interesting to follow styles in silverware, to trace ancestry of patterns and learn their origin.

Just now the opportunity is particularly good, for the lines are complete with many good ideas for the Christmas shopper.

The Army-Navy gme today ends the football season of 1912, one of the most successful seasons in the history of the game. Final rankings and all-southern picks are all that remain.

GREAT ARMY-NAVY GAME TODAY

Edited by DICK JEMISON

ARMY-NAVY GAME SOCIETY EVENT

Annual Battle at Philadelphia This Afternoon.

Army Rules the Favorite The Season Ends With This Contest.

The football season of 1912 will come to a close today with the great Army-Navy annual battle at Franklin field in Philadelphia this afternoon.

This game is always considered one of the greatest games of the year. From a social and official standpoint it is the greatest. High army, navy and government officials attend the games, Washington and Philadelphia society is out in force and the midshipmen and cadets attend in a body.

This year, the edge seems to veer to the Army. Uncle Sam's land warriors seem to have a perceptible edge over the sea dog contingent, but in this game past performances count but little. The weaker team has won in the past through its superior fighting ability, and it may the case this year, who knows?

Franklin field, where the University of Pennsylvania plays all its football battles, will be packed and jammed this afternoon. The advance ticket allottment has used up all the 31,000 seating capacity, but there will be thousands of others who will stand throughout the long battle.

It will be the seventeenth meeting between the two teams. In previous meetings the Navy has won eight games, the Army seven and one tie has resulted. In these games the Army has scored 140 points and the Navy 124.

Here are the scores of previous years:

1890—Navy 24, Army 0.
1891—Army 32, Navy 16.
1892—Navy 12, Army 4.
1893—Navy 6, Army 4.
1899—Army 17, Navy 5.
1900—Navy 11, Army 7.
1901—Army 11, Navy 5.
1902—Army 22, Navy 8.
1903—Army 40, Navy 5.
1904—Army 11, Navy 0.
1905—Army 6, Navy 6.
1906—Navy 10, Army 0.
1907—Army 6, Navy 4.
1910—Navy 3, Army 0.
1911—Navy 3, Army 0.

FINAL RANKING OF TEAMS SHOWS VANDERBILT FIRST; GEORGIA IN SECOND PLACE

By Dick Jemison.

Vanderbilt University is entitled to first ranking among the southern football teams again, by reason of the fact that the Commodores did not lose a single game during the season.

True, Auburn tied the Commodores; but they were eliminated by Georgia on Thanksgiving day, the Red and Black victory giving the Commodores clean-cut right to the title, as they had previously overwhelmed Georgia.

But try to rank the other teams and see what a proposition it is. To attempt such a proceeding would but call down abuse on the head of the man so doing. However, let's submit the facts in the case and see what we arrive at.

Georgia, Sewanee and Auburn lost but one game during the entire season. On this dope, it would seem that the three should be ranked for second place; but look further.

Georgia defeated Auburn. This alone prevents Auburn from having an equal ranking with Georgia. Sewanee tied Georgia and lost to Vanderbilt by a much smaller score than Georgia did, but did not show up as well against some other common foes, such as Alabama and Tech.

Equaling this all up, Auburn, by reason of her much better showing against every team that Sewanee played as a common foe, with the exception of Georgia, should have a slight margin on the Tigers for the third-place ranking.

Auburn defeated Tech decisively, and Sewanee was but lucky to fluke out a victory. Tech smothered Alabama and Sewanee was able to only tie the Tuscaloosans.

Sewanee tie of Georgia came after the gruelling that the Commodores had just given the Red and Black, so it is not so meritorious after all, especially as Georgia romped on Tech, and, as mentioned before, Sewanee was lucky to win.

Tech is clearly entitled to fifth place in the ranking, losing only to the teams that are ranked above her, and in some instances outplaying them. In no game of the season were the game Yellow Jackets outplayed, taking into consideration their lack of weight.

Alabama comes sixth, and the others are ranked as above.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FINAL RANKING

1. Vanderbilt.
2. Georgia.
3. Auburn.
4. Sewanee.
5. Tech.
6. Alabama.
7. Tulane.
8. Mississippi A. & M.
9. Mississippi.
10. South Carolina.
11. L. S. U.
12. Clemson.
13. Mercer.
14. Florida.
15. Tennessee.
16. Citadel.

BIG REUNION PLANNED FOR ANNUAL GEORGIA-AUBURN GAME

Athens, Ga., November 29.—(Special.) While no contract has been signed as yet between the athletic associations of the two institutions, it is practically certain that the Thanksgiving day game of next year between the football teams of Georgia and Auburn will be again played on Sanford Mead, Athens.

The game yesterday was a success from the financial viewpoint. With a severe snow the night before which deterred fully fifteen hundred from coming from other places the gate receipts of the game were most satisfactory, in fact, all that could be well accommodated without erecting additional stands and bleachers. The net profits to the teams yesterday was only about a hundred dollars less than was earned at both games played in Savannah.

It is already planned to make the next Thanksgiving event on the university of Georgia campus a big social affair, the reunion event of the alumni of both Georgia and Auburn men, and in addition to the sporting events and the social and fraternal featurel it is planned to add an address from some prominent educator or statesman. President Woodrow Wilson will likely be invited to come to Georgia and make an address in Athens on that occasion.

AUBURN ELEVEN TO BE BANQUETED

Auburn, Ala., November 29.—(Special.)—Invitations have just been issued to friends of the Auburn football team to attend the annual banquet of the team which will be held in Smith hall Saturday evening.

This annual occasion is always made a pleasant one by the attendance of several of the alumni of the school, some of the sporting writers and the college fraternity.

Waycross, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Halsey & Co., of New York, were awarded the $100,000 issue of public improvement bonds by the bond commission today, offering a premium of $2,074. There were eleven bids, all over par.

JEMISON HEADS ATLANTA LEAGUE

The Atlanta and Fulton basketball league have organized for the 1912-13 season and the first game will be played next week. Dick Jemison, sporting editor of The Constitution, was elected president of the league, the fastest amateur league in the state. F. J. Cooledge, Jr., of the Fifth regiment, was elected vice president, and Paul McGrew, of Wesley Memorial, secretary and treasurer. Three games will be played in the Atlanta league each Friday evening. There is an opening for one team in this league. The five teams now in the league are: Governor's Horse Guards, Fifth Regiment, Wesley Memorial, Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus.

The Fulton league will be composed of the following eight teams this season: Agogas, Baracas of the Tabernacle, Y. M. C. A. (second team), Company C, Company H, S. V. ANTIPODES TENNIS TEAM WINS DOUBLES

Melbourne, Australia, November 29.—The Australian team won the doubles matches against the English challengers in the contest today for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn trophy, thus obtaining revenge for yesterday's unexpected defeat in the singles. The play was brilliant.

The turf courts of the warehouse men's grounds, on which the matches were played, were in fine condition and there was a great gathering of spectators.

INNIS BROWN PICKS TEAM FOR SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

Innis Brown, captain of the Vanderbilt football team of 1905, considered the best football team that the Commodores have ever turned out, has been engaged by The Constitution to choose its All-Southern football team for the past season.

Mr. Brown is eminently fitted to choose such a team. He has seen practically every southern team in action more than once this season, and in his official capacity as referee or umpire was in close touch with the playing ability of the men throughout the season.

Mr. Brown has been considering his All-Southern pick for a couple of weeks, but it was not until after the Thanksgiving day games that he was able to pick his team in its entirety.

The eleven will average up excellently, too, as to weight and heighth, and would be a most formidable aggregation of players.

The eleven will weigh 1,927 pounds, an average of 175 2-11 pounds to the man. The line, from end to end, will weigh 1,263 pounds, an average of 180 3-7 pounds to the man. The line, from tackle to tackle, will weigh 943 pounds, an average of 188 3-5 pounds to the man. The backfield will weigh 664 pounds, an average of 166 pounds to the man.

GUN CLUB SHOOT AT BROOKHAVEN

The second round of fifty targets in the 205 target trap shoot of the Brookhaven club will be held this afternoon.

The first block of fifty were shot last Saturday at the official opening of the Gun club. C. M. Sciples, Jr., Albert L. Dunn and John K. Ottley were leading at the end of the first block.

This shoot is for a handsome trophy given by the Dupont Powder company.

FIFTH REGIMENT ENDS BASKETBALL SEASON

By Ogle Grice.

The Fifth Regiment basketball fall season is over. All games have been played. The result of one game is in dispute, and will be settled at a meeting early next week.

The Fulton Blues have forged upward to third place, while the Governor's Horse Guard and the Atlanta Grays both claim first.

A postponed game was played last night, the Fulton Blues and the Horse Guard meeting for the first time this season. The entire Horse Guard five was outplayed. At center, Dubard played rings around the celebrated "Pie" Weaver. Abbott and Graves did about all the playing that was done by the Horse Guard five, Graves particularly playing hard. T. Forbes and L. Forbes, of the Blues, ran up a large score for their team. Ed Carter and Foxy Redwine were in tip-top condition at guard.

At the end of ten minutes' play the Horse Guard was tied with the Blues, 10 to 10. At the end of the first half the Blues led, 21 to 12. At the end of the game the Blues had tallied 41 points and the Horse Guard 17. At foul shooting, Abbott made four out of seven tries and T. Forbes two out of eight.

The line-up and score:

Blues (41).	Positions.	Horse Guards (17).
T. Forbes.. (18)	Right Forward	Abbott (9)
L. Forbes (4)	Left Forward	Jones
Dubard (16)	Center	Weaver
Carter (2)	Right Guard	Graves

Referee, Hudson. Umpire, Jameson.

The game was handled better by the officials than any game played in local leagues here in some seasons. Both Hudson and Jameson did well enough to win the approval of all concerned, something somewhat unusual.

BROTHERHOOD IS ASKED TO MEET HERE IN 1914

Leaders among the Episcopal church in Atlanta have sent out invitations to a meeting which is to be held at 5 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at the Piedmont hotel for the purpose of taking steps to secure the 1914 convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Realizing that the local brotherhood will need the assistance of all Episcopalians in the city the executive committee announces that it has secured the approval of Bishop C. Kinlock Nelson and the local clergy to ask all members of the chruch to attend the meetings and join in making plans to secure the convention.

For the past twenty-five years the brotherhood has held conventions in cities like Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Memphis and Nashville and the average registration has amounted to 1,000 delegates and visitors. It is the largest annual gathering of laymen in the Anglical Communion. The 1912 meeting will be held in Chicago, the 1913 in New York and the 1915 in Los Angeles, and Atlanta Episcopalians are anxious to obtain the convention two years from now.

LIEUTENANT WOODWARD ON VISIT TO PARENTS

Lieutenant Clark Howell Woodward, commander of a flotilla of five torpedo destroyers, of which the Roe is flagship, spent Thanksgiving in Atlanta with his parents, Colonel and Mrs. Park Woodward. He will leave Wednesday to rejoin his fleet, which is now stationed at New York.

In the time that he has been in the United States navy, Lieutenant Woodward has made rapid strides, winning his way to promotion by his merit and knowledge of naval affairs. He is regarded as one of the most popular young officers now in the service, and has a host of friends in Atlanta who wish him even greater success and acknowledgment of his ability as a naval officer.

After remaining near New York until early in January, Lieutenant Woodward will take the flotilla to the waters of Guantanamo, Cuba, where the winter maneuvers are regularly held, and remaining there for about three months, will return to the north Atlantic coast for spring target practice.

MANY USES FOR GAS TO BE SEEN AT SHOW

Although the general impression is that gas can be used only for lighting, heating and cooking, there will be shown at least a thousand ways in which it can be utilized when the gas men meet here on December 2-7.

The third biggest manufactured article in this country is gas, according to the reports of the gas companies.

The convention of gas men is to be one of the largest and most interesting ever held in Atlanta. There will be present representatives of gas companies from every part of the United States.

The gas demonstrations will take place in the Auditorium and the public will be invited to see one of the most effective lighting exhibitions ever given in any city in the south.

Game Postponed.

The game between Atlanta University and Clark University, which was to have been played Thanksgiving day, was postponed on account of the heavy snowfall and will be played this afternoon on Atlanta university campus. The two teams are well matched and there is much interest among the colored Atlanta football fans as to the outcome of the game.

CAN C. ENGLISH STOP WHITNEY?

Handicap Match at the Dixie Athletic Club on Next Tuesday Night.

The Dixie Athletic club has planned a main bout for next Tuesday night that should prove attractive to local fans, as two of their prime favorites will be seen in action.

Clarence English and Frank Whitney are the two boys who have been matched up. English, who is a welterweight, agrees to stop Whitney, who is a lightweight, within the ten-round limit.

This handicap match makes an interesting card. Much discussion has arisen over this. There are just as many who believe that English cannot stop Whitney despite the difference in the weight, as there is who believe that he can.

Both these boys have delivered the goods here on every occasion. There is no stalling about either one of them. They enter the ring prepared to do battle and in the best of condition and they battle from the first until the last.

JURY FINDS HYDE GUILTY OF BRIBERY

Justice Goff Remands Former Chamberlain of New York City to Cell in Tombs.

New York, November 29.—Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, was found guilty tonight of bribery in connection with the performance of his duties as a city official. The jury, which has been hearing his case in the supreme court, rendered its verdict shortly before midnight, after nearly three and a half hours' deliberation.

Justice Goff remanded Hyde until December 4, and the former chamberlain was led across the "bridge of sighs" to a cell in the Tombs. It was his first taste of prison life, for he had been at liberty on bail since his indictment and during his trial.

When the case was given to the jury, shortly after 8 o'clock, there were few who expected a verdict in so short a time and when word came from the jury that it wished to report Justice Goff was not at hand. It was nearly forty minutes before he appeared. Hyde was brought in and faced the jury.

As the word "guilty" fell from the foreman's lips, Hyde's eyes, which had been fixed on the jurors' faces, did not waver, and he gave no evidence of emotion. After his counsel, John B. Stanchfield, had asked for and obtained, the privilege of making such motion in the case on Wednesday next as he deemed proper, the "pedigree" of the former chamberlain was taken. Hyde answered the questions in a clear voice. When he came to be led away he flushed and walked with drooping head to the door.

Hyde was accused, in the words of state's counsel to the jury, of using "the power and the pressure of his official position, unlawfully to induce" Joseph G. Rooin, head of the defunct Northern bank, to cause the bank to loan the tottering Carnegie Trust company $130,000.

KIRBY, IN TEARS, TRIES TO SHIELD HIS WIFE

Chicago, November 29.—Dr. William T. Kirby, banker-physician, wept several times today as he testified in federal court to save his wife from possible punishment for contempt of court by shouldering all the blame of various transactions which precipitated the failure of the Kirby Savings bank.

The banker was questioned in his own behalf, similar proceedings being in process against him, in which a demand to turn over $10,000 has been made by Judge K. M. Landis.

"My wife never got a dollar of the $20,000," said Kirby.

The owner of the private bank said that the fictitious accounts in the names of "Mrs. M. S. Lamb" and "Miss E. Walsh," which previous testimony showed Mrs. Kirby had opened, were made at his command, but he failed to explain why this was done.

PROMINENT SOUTHERN EDUCATOR PASSES AWAY

Lynchburg, Va., November 29.—Dr. William Waugh Smith, chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges, president of Randolph-Macon Women's college of Lynchburg and founder of the woman's college and Randolph-Macon academies at Bedford City, Va., and Front Royal, Va., died here early today, after a lingering illness.

Dr. Smith, who was a prominent figure in the southern educational conference, was a warm personal friend of President-elect Woodrow Wilson. He was born in Warrenton, Va., March 12, 1845, and served four years in the confederate army, having been twice wounded.

WILL FORCE RESPECT FOR THE U. S. FLAG

Salt Lake City, Utah, November 29.—An amendment to the state constitution making the teaching of patriotism in the public schools compulsory was recommended yesterday by the Utah Teachers' association. There was opposition to the resolution presented by D. H. Cristensen, superintendent of the Salt Lake City schools, and the recommendation was carried by a small majority.

Interest in the subject grew out of the expulsion from the Salt Lake City schools of two little girls who declared themselves socialists and refused to take part in the flag saluting exercises.

FALL IN BIRTH RATE CUTS FRENCH RECRUITS

Paris, November 29.—That the number of recruits available for the French army was reduced from 238,000 in 1906 to 215,000 in 1911, owing to the diminution of the birth rate in France, was the startling assertion made by Joseph Reinach in the debate in the chamber of deputies today on the bill relating to infantry enrollment.

ENVOYS OF PEACE PLAN ARMISTICE

Bulgarians Capture Two Divisions of Turkish Reserves.

No Developments in Dispute Between Austria and Servia as to Occupation of Adriatic Port.

London, November 29.—Constantinople tonight reports the probability of a fortnight's armistice being signed Sunday by the peace plenipotentiaries who are negotiating for a cessation of hostilities between the Turks and the allies. From the Bulgarian side there has been no news today concerning the peace negotiations except the vague statement that they are making satisfactory progress.

Nothing has transpired as to whether the proposed armistice will affect the whole field of war operations or only the Tchatalja lines.

The news received today of the surrender of two entire divisions of Turkish reserves to the Bulgarians in the neighborhood of Demotica, a short distance south of Adrianople, after severe fighting, shows there still are large isolated bodies of Turkish troops unaccounted for, which must be considered in arranging an armistice. The armies are said to have large numbers of men who are proceeding in Greek transports from the gulf of Saloniki, either for Gallipoli peninsula, which separates the Dardanelles from the Aegean sea, or to join the allied army at Tchatalja. No news has been received concerning these transports as yet, and the disposal of the men they carry, in event an armistice is arranged, would present some difficulty.

Negotiations Continue.

Although it is not yet safe to assume that an armistice is in sight, the fact that the negotiations continue at Baghtche and that apparently no definite time limit has been fixed as to the duration of the existing suspension of hostilities tends toward the brief that a peaceful solution of the trouble is approaching.

There were no fresh developments today concerning the proposed conference between the powers on the Balkan situation or concerning the dispute between Austria and Servia as to the occupation by the latter country of a port on the Adriatic.

"The government is actively preparing for a possible rupture of the peace negotiations and a resumption of hostilities," says The Daily Telegraph's Constantinople correspondent. "The streets again are swarming with soldiers. The Lule Burgas veterans are preparing to return to the front and the Redifs are marching to barracks to be provided with uniforms and equipment. The great square in front of the ministry of war is a veritable camp, where thousands of recruits are awaiting orders to march.

"If hopes of peace are entertained there certainly never have been more ardent war preparations. Since Thursday the government has been observing such complete silence regarding the peace pour paleres that even the ambassadors are absolutely lacking in knowledge of their precise position.

"In any case there is no indication that the Bulgarians have abandoned their principle for the surrender of Adrianople. The government journal Sabah declares that Adrianople must not be an Ottoman Alsace-Lorraine."

FORMAL ARMISTICE NOW WITHIN SIGHT

Constantinople, November 29.—A formal armistice for a fortnight is now within sight, according to an official announcement made tonight.

"The pour paleres at Baghtche are proceeding in a satisfactory manner and there is reason to hope the armistice may be signed in a day or two," the announcement said.

The information was given out after a meeting of the council of ministers which was in session from 6 until 10 o'clock. It was called to discuss a report submitted to Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, by Osman Nazimni Pasha, Damed Ferid and Mustapha Rechad Bey, minister of the interior, who went to Baghtche this morning and conferred with the peace plenipotentiaries and returned to the capital this evening.

Prior to the meeting of the council of ministers the grand vizier had an audience with the sultan and also visited the British and Russian ambassadors. Fire broke out in the porte this evening, but was quickly quenched.

Several more unionist deputies were arrested today in connection with the plot against the government.

CITADEL IN BELGRADE REPORTED TO BE MINED

London, November 29.—A dispatch to a news agency from Vienna says that a message received there late today from Belgrade declares that the citadel in Belgrade has been mined and that it may be blown up on the entry of foreign troops. A majority of the tradespeople, officials and leading manufacturers of Belgrade, by government order, have removed to Nish and Leskovitz and others are preparing to depart from the Servian capital.

PRAIRIE ORDERED HOME FROM DOMINICAN WATERS

Washington, November 29.—Peace having practically been restored in the Dominican republic, the navy department today ordered the auxiliary cruiser Prairie to sail at once for Philadelphia, bringing home the 750 American marines who have been cooped up aboard the cruiser for the past two months vainly awaiting an opportunity for shore service. The Prairie's departure will leave three United States warships in Dominican waters, the gunboats Yankton, Petrel and Nashville.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

EARLY ADVANCED THEN CAME BREAK

Cotton Market Excited in Early Session, But Closed Barely Steady.

New York, November 29.—The cotton market was excited today, with fluctuations extremely violent and irregular. New high records were made for the season during the early afternoon, but a very sharp break followed, under realizing and rumors of bearish ginning returns, with the market steady at 4 points lower to 11 points higher as compared with the closing figures of last Wednesday.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points, near months being influenced by relatively easy cables and the circulation of a few December notices. Overholiday buying orders sent the active months about 5 to 8 points net higher, right after the call, but realizing continued active and the market gradually sagged off. After showing a net loss of 5 to 7 points, the selling became less active and a renewal of bull support was accompanied by a rapid advance. Early sellers seemed to be covering and there was but little cotton offering until the active months showed net gains of from 10 to 15 points. This carried the spring months up to very nearly the 13c mark, and a lot of long cotton came on the market. For a time it was pretty well absorbed, but when it was seen that the offerings were in volume, bulls withdrew and there was a break almost as sudden and violent as the mid-day advance. Active months sold off more than 20 points from the best, but at a net decline of about 7 to 11 points met renewed support, with the close at a rally of several points from the lowest.

Rumors that the National Ginners' association would show 11,800,000 bales ginned probably helped the late decline.

Cotton spot closed quiet ;middling uplands 13.10; do. gulf 13.35! sales 300 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, November 29.—Spot cotton steady, ¼ up; middling, 12¾; sales on the spot, 1,400 bales; to arrive, 1,000; low ordinary, 9⅝, nominal; ordinary, 10 3-16, nominal; good ordinary, 11 13-16; strict good ordinary, 12 1-16; low middling, 12 5-16; strict low middling, 12 9-16; middling, 12⅝; strict middling, 12 15-16; good middling, 13¼; strict good middling, 13 5-16; middling fair, 13¾, nominal; middling to fair, 14¼, nominal¼ fair, 14½, nominal; receipts, 2,711; stock, 255,415.

Cotton futures opened steady, 1 point off to 3 points up. Cables were colorless. Bulls attempted to put the market up immediately after the call, but at a level 1 to 3 points over Wednesday's close selling orders came out in volume and the market fell off. Weather over the holiday in the cotton region was declared almost perfect and the forecast predicted more fair weather. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 5 to 7 points under Wednesday's final figures.

The small decline that followed the opening did not last long. Reports of a good spot demand in the interior and of the completion of picking and ginning and the exhaustion of supplies in first hands at many points in the cotton belt, especially in the eastern half, stimulated buying and the market gradually acquired a very steady tone. There appeared to be an entire absence of manipulation and leading bull interests were said to be welling on the rise. All months went to new high levels, May selling up to 13.07.

At noon, prices were 6 to 8 points over last Wednesday's close.

In the afternoon, the market weakened on the rumor that a private crop-reporting bureau was out with agginning report of 11,800,000 bales.

At 2 o'clock prices were 4 to 6 points under Wednesday's closing level.

Cotton futures closed steady at a net decline of 1 to 5 points.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, November 29.—While our market was closed, Liverpool had some sharp fluctuations to open this morning from 2 to 3 points higher than Wednesday. This was not an adequate reply to the strength shown in the American markets, so we opened lower, to decline slightly and then rushed quickly upwards under aggressive buying until March sold at 12.97, practicaly 13 cents. From this point, realizing orders appeared and finally heavy selling for the long account caused all the advance to be lost, with the close hardly steady at practicaly last Wednesday's quotations. Although the market was generaly higher today, it at no time showed the underlying of Wednesday. The traders are bullish, expecting their position will be sustained by the next ginners' report and the bureau report on the 12th. We think there is a larger long interest in Wall street houses than for a long time.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, November 29.—Heavy liquidation for large interests, both trade and speculative, was the feature of the market today. While prices advanced some 22 points following the selling at the opening, offerings again became a weight at the new high level. The buying of spot interests towards midday was the cause of prices advancing as they did, but upon rumors that the ginning for the period would equal last year, liquidation occurred in earnest. Under the present extent of speculation, prices change will be frequent and sentiment easily affected by current polices, whether authorities or not.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, November 29.—Cotton sold at the high of the season today; but at the high of the day there was such an avalanche offering that the market was rather soft after an effort to force March to 13 cents had failed by 2 points. The real weakness today was in the rear positions, December and January both closing 4 points down, while July was 4 points up. There is a good deal of quiet liquidation going on that seems to come from the big spot people, who have been much advertised as "bull leaders." The little longs, however, are still holding on, and many of them are pyramiding. Many conservatives are beginning to consider it a dangerous market just at the present. Liverpool is due to come 1 down to 3½ points up.

Cattle receipts light with but few good cattle on market. Several loads of mixed common steers and half fat cows were in the yards this week; the tops of thees were assorted and brought good prices, the cut-outs being sorry, sold accordingly.

This week's receipts would indicate that the farmers are clearing up thir pastures and perparing to a large extent, to go through the winter barehand. Many cattle now coming and being sold at a sacrifice for the reason of being poor and undesirable should be held back for winter feed and marketed later in good or prime condition for beef. No farmer can find a better market for this cotton seed meal and hulls than cattle feeding. Regardless of the corn crop in the west thousands of cars of cotton seed meal and hulls are being shipped from Georgia for cattle feeding, right into the heart of the corn belt.

A good many loads of Tennessee feeding steers have been placed in this territory among some of the best farmers who are feeding for the spring market. These farmers will have fine cattle, which will bring them a good price and in addition will have an enormous supply of fertilizer for their farms.

Hogs receipts normal, market steady to a shade lower.

FLURRY IN MONEY IN WALL STREET

Stock Market Listless—Call Money Touched 20 Per Cent During Day.

New York, November 29.—The highest rate for call money in several years was touched today, 20 per cent being quoted just before the close. Quotations fluctuated in an erratic way through the day and the bulk of the business was transacted at figures considerably below the top. The opening was at 6 per cent and renewals were made at 7 per cent. After mounting to 10 per cent, the rate fell back to 8 per cent. Late in the day the quotations rose by leaps until 20 per cent was touched in the last few minutes. It was the highest rate since January of 1908.

A flurry in money was not altogether unexpected, although the comparative ease at the opening and the dip to 8 per cent, after 10 per cent was touched, had lessened fears of a squeeze. There were indications, however, that the recent scarcity of funds might make itself felt in some such way. Loans made today carried over into the new month and there were preparations to be made for over $100,000,000 interest and dividend disbursements. Another unsettling factor was the drain on this center by Canada and the interior, which threatens to obliterate the surplus reserve shown in last week's bank statement. Forecasts, based on known movements of money, indicated a cash loss of from $4,500,000 to twice thta amount. The loss of gold to Canada was increased by an additional shipment of $500,000, bringing up the total to $1,750,000.

The uncertain status of money was an effective bar to speculative activity in stocks and the market was listless. The Harriman stocks and Canadian Pacific were higher and there were wide movements in a few specialties with General Electric, Westinghouse and Rubber particularly strong. Otherwise fluctuations were narrow. The flurry in money was without effect on stocks.

The Harriman lines, Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific reported increases of round amounts in their earnings for October. The earnings of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were the largest in their history.

The bond market was generally firm, although there was a slight depression in some quarters. Sales, par value, $1,300,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BOY STRANGLER ADMITS CRIME

J. Frank Hickey Confesses to Murder of Three Youths.

When Drunk Has Irresistible Impulse to Kill Boys, He Says---Crime Traced by Postcards.

Buffalo, N. Y., November 29.—The accidental killing of a man in Lowell, Mass., twenty years ago was given tonight by John Frank Hickey, in a signed confession as the starting point of a career of debauchery and crime during which he murdered two boys and assaulted many others. Hickey's victims, according to his confession, were Ed Morey, of Lowell, Mass., poisoned with laundanum over twenty years ago; Michael Kruck, 12 years old, a New York newsboy, strangled in Central Park, in 1902, and Joseph Joseph, the 7-year-old son of George Josephs ,a merchant of Lackawanna, killed in a similar manner, October 12, 1911.

"The details of Hickey's last two crimes are too revolting to make public," said District Attorney Dudley. "Hickey apparently is a man with a dual personality. He is intelligent. He is now overcome with remorse, and says again and again that he can't comprehend what possessed him to commit the crime. He asserts that he became a maniac only when filled with whisky."

Young Josephs disappeared the afternoon of October 12, 1911. His father, George Josephs, a merchant of Lackawanna, insisted from the start that the boy had been kidnaped, and a country-wide search was instituted. The case at the time attracted widespread attention, as the father from time to time received anonymous letters warning him to discontinue the search on pain of having his son murdered.

Confessed on Train.

The confession was made to District Attorney Dudley and Chief of Police Gilson, of Lackawanna. It was begun on the train that brought Hickey from New York to Buffalo Wednesday, and was completed. Hickey was arrested at a colony for inebriates at Whiting, N. J., November 19.

When arrested, he denied all knowledge of the crime. Extradition papers were prepared, and when the hearing was about to be begun before the New Jersey authorities Hickey decided to go to Buffalo without making a contest. He was taken to New York, where he was questioned relative to the Kruck murder, and, it is said, made at that time many damaging admissions.

Wrote Postals About Crimes.

Hickey's fondness for writing postal cards to the police proved his undoing.

In one postal from Boston, the then unknown writer wrote of the Kruck murder as follows:

"Wednesday night, December 10, 1912, I enticed Michael Ricac Kruck, a newsboy, at Eighty- sixth street and Central Park, West, New York city, into the park opposite the entrance to the arsenal police station. I strangled him, and just escaped the officer who found him as I came back (few words here illegible). Three times I have taken life, twelve times have tried, and cannot help it."

Another card from Boston told of the Josephs boy, and where the body would be found. The police followed the minute instructions on the card and recovered the body in decomposed fragments.

Hickey will be formally arraigned Monday on the charge of murder in the first degree.

ATLANTA'S NEWEST SKYSCRAPER

The Hurt building at Edgewood avenue and Exchange place shows from an architect's perspective as one of the most imposing of the new buildings planned for Atlanta. The structure will be seventeen stories high and will cost $700,000. It is being erected by the Atlanta Realty corporation, of which Joel Hurt is president. Steel work will commence during the early part of January and the completion of the building is expected by next September. J. E. R. Carpenter, of New York, is the architect, and the Realty Construction company, of Birmingham, is the contractor.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR MILLIONAIRE'S NIECE

New York, November 29.—The police of New York and neighboring cities are searching today for 15-year-old Marian Ege, niece of Jacob Doll, millionaire piano manufacturer. Her uncle believes she has been kidnapped and declares that he will spend an unlimited amount of money to find the girl.

The police say that Miss Ege had complained to Mr. Doll on several occasions recently that she had been followed on the street by a strange, middle-aged man.

She disappeared Tuesday while walking near her home.

THEATERS

"Happy Hooligan."
(At the Lyric.)

You have probably wondered what really became of "Happy Hooligan" and his illustrious family? Well, "Happy" is going to return to the stage again after a long absence and will be seen next week at the Lyric in an elaborate revival of Gus Hill's play of that title. "Happy" returns underthe most auspicious surroundings. The production is complete in every respect.

"The Shepherd of the Hills."
(At the Lyric.)

It is safe to say that no better production that "The Shepherd of the Hills," which is being offered this week at the Lyric, has been presented to theater-goers this season. The performance would be most acceptable at higher prices, and it is not surprising that the theater has been hardly large enough to hold the enthusiastic audiences that have desired to see the play this week.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Forsyth.)

Matinee and night performances on Saturday at the Forsyth will conclude the presentation of "Merely Mary Ann" by Little Emma Bunting and the players who have been so successful all the season in stock offerings.

For the coming week "Lovers' Lane" will be the bill. This piece will require the services of twenty-two acting people, so in addition to the regular company, headed by Miss Bunting and Mr. Whitaker, there will be some local talent that will be surprisingly interesting.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Grand.)

A great advance sale has been registered for the two performances Saturday at the Grand. In summing up the result Juliet has won first honors and the novelty of the sharpshooting of the Shillings has had much to do with the drawing power of the bill. For next week the greatest headline act of its sort yet introduced this season, McIntyre and Heath, will top a bill full of most interesting material. The stars will be McIntyre and Heath, known the world over as greatest black face character entertainers.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK; REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, November 29.—Cotton has risen sharply during the past week, owing to the activity in the cotton goods business, strong spot markets, heavy buying by the mills and large purchases also by spot people. Added to this was a widening speculation. The prestige of the bulls has been greatly increased by the very sharp advance which has taken place during the last six weeks. It is true that the spot sales in Liverpool have continued, as a rule, to be small. But the demand from domestic mills has been so great as to offset this drawback, as well as anything else that might be cited against the market; for instance, the very large movement of the crop.

The political situation in Europe has disturbed the market more or less both at home and abroad. But cotton people are paying less attention to this subject at the present time. Meantime Manchester is doing an enormous business, both in yarns and cloths at very profitable prices. Much the same state of things exists on this side of the water.

Rarely, it would appear, has the textile industry of the United States been on a more remunerative basis. At the present time many mills, it is believed, are sold far ahead and have not fully covered themselves in the matter of raw cotton. The heavy demand for the actual cotton of late is believed to be a reflection of this state of things. Meantime, the New York stock is steadily dwindling. The exports equal the high record figures of last year.

The rapid advance in yarns of late and the scarcity of not a few spot goods in the cloth market have tended to increase the strength of the general cotton situation, despite the continued large receipts. Livrpool, the south and Wall street have at times sold heavily, but sold out bulls have returned to the market and their buying has accelerated the advance. Whatever may be said against the market, the dominant sentiment is undoubtedly bullish.

WEEK'S TRADE REVIEWED.

What Commercial Agencies Say About Business.

New York, November 29.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say that trade continues to move at a swift pace, but, owing to improvement in retail distribution, the returns are invested with a greater degree of uniformity than was heretofore visible. Jobbers, as well as wholesale dealers, are, if anything, more active, while the retail trade has been stimulated by colder weather, enlarged crop movement and expansion in holiday buying. Virtually all sections, save the south Atlantic states, where the cotton crop is short, join in sending favorable tidings. In leading lines, the nub of the situation is comprehended in the statement that active demands face short supplies, which fact makes it patent that consumption has, for the time, outrun production, and that previous conservative buying is reflected in present insistent demands for prompt supplies.

Reorders from surplus crop-moving sections are featured in the reports, while demand for textiles for present and future shipment is such as to make for widespread activity in manufacturing circles. Indeed, industrial operations continue brisk, and in the iron and steel line complaints of inability to get material when promised are very general. Under the circumstances, consumers are being forced to draw on warehouse stocks. Collections are probably better than heretofore.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending November 28 were 247, against 268 last week, 216 in the like week of 1911, 217 in 1910, 230 in 1909 and 234 in 1908. Business failures in Canada for the week number 18, as against 27 last week and 26 in the like week last year.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending November 28 aggregated 5,686,017 bushels, against 6,114,537 last week and 4,855,316 this week last year. For the 22 weeks ending November 28 exports are 97,249,781 bushels, against 70,734,441 in the corresponding period last year. Corn exports for the week are 1,247 bushels, against 59,464 last week and 144,856 in 1911. For the 22 weeks ending November 28 corn exports are 1,524,071 bushels, against 11,137,357 last year.

NEWSPAPER MEN FORM NEW FIRM

Fred Lewis and W. B. Seabrook Join Forces in Publicity and Advertising.

William B. Seabrook, for the past three years connected with The Atlanta Journal as reporter, telegraph editor and dramatic critic, and one of the best-known young newspaper men in Atlanta, will sever his connection with his paper on December 1 to enter into partnership with Fred Lewis, formerly of The Constitution, in the general publicity and advertising business.

The new firm, which starts with a substantial amount of contracts, will be known as Lewis-Seabrook company, and will have offices at 615 Third National Bank building. It will be equipped to handle all kinds of newspaper publicity and to write advertisements.

As a "cub" reporter Mr. Seabrook began six years ago, on The Augusta Chronicle, and showed rare aptitude for newspaper work from the start. His rise in his chosen profession of journalism has been rapid and sure. He become city editor of The Chronicle before he left the paper to carry out his cherished plan of a trip to Europe. He had studied on European travel, art and literature and architecture, and on leaving made arrangements to write for a newspaper syndicate. He sailed from New York as a steerage passenger, and for more than a year wandered over the continent. When he returned it was as a first-class passenger, with plenty of money from the results of his writing.

Since coming to Atlanta, Mr. Seabrook has made a name for himself on The Journal, and in addition to writing news stories, has written many advertisements for his paper.

Lewis-Seabrook company will be a strong, well-balanced firm. Fred Lewis was with The Atlanta Constitution for upwards of twelve years, having left a few months ago to start the business which he soon has expanded to where it needs another man. He, like Mr. Seabrook, served his paper well on practically all the important assignments. He was capitol reporter, staff reporter, city editor and successfully managed a number of The Constitution's projects, such as the Round-the-State automobile tours, etc. He is one of the best-known newspaper men in Georgia, and enjoys the respect and confidence of prominent men in all walks of life.

ASSESSMENT HELD UP UNTIL STREET IS FIXED

The city will hold up the assessments against owners of Whiteford avenue property until the Nichols Contracting company puts the street in condition. Councilman Charles W. Smith, in company with Engineer Hurt, of the construction department, went over the paving and found that it was faulty in several respects. Councilman Smith declared that more chert should be put in the center and that the gutters should be rounded.

The street committee recommended that council hold up the assessments until the construction department approves the work. Property owners protested against the Whiteford avenue job and it was at their request that the city ordered an inspection of the work.

Change Street Name.—Peters street from Forsyth to Madison avenue, will have its named changed to Trinity avenue. At least that is the aim of property owners and business establishments on the street. A petition signed by several hundred persons was presented to the street committee Friday afternoon and a recommendation for the change will be made.

sage of greeting from the South Carolina conference, which is now in session at Anderson, was read and the secretary was instructed to send an appropriate reply.

A class of sixteen young preachers were admitted today on trial in the conference as follows: George E. Clary W. M. Mitchum and F. J. Jordan, from the Savannah district; F. M. Elder, from the Macon district; H. J. Stenford, from the Columbus district; J. W. Patterson, from the Americus district; C. L. Rogers and J. P. Clarke, from the Thomasville district; J. L. Jones and T. G. Lambert, from the Valdosta district; D. B. Mann, J. C. Saville, Bascom Anthony Pafford and E. C. Dowdy, from the Waycross district, and J. W. Reese, T. L. Coleman and M. B. Boykin, from the Dublin district.

The following having stood on approved examination were advanced to the class of the fourth year: John D. McCord, Stephen C. Oliff, Runey F. Owen, Paul Muse, H. T. Freeman, J. A. Sconyers, G. W. Hutcheson, G. H. Walker, W. T. Belvin and Jesse F. Ford. Those continued in the class of the third year: B. C. Prickett, E. C. Willis and Moody Booth. The following were elected to elders' orders: Corley L. Nease, E. W. Anderson, J. E. Channell, M. M. Leggett, M. A. Show, J. J. Sanders, B. C. Matteson, Walter Williams, C. E. Dell, R. L. Whitehead, J. A. Rountree and L. L. Barr. J. F. Yancey, of Alamo, formerly of this class, surrendered his credentials to the conference and the same were accepted and he retires from the ministry. Rev. T. O. Lambert, J. D. Smith, L. A. Harvell, local preachers, were elected to deacons' orders and Rev. J. W. Reese to local elders' orders.

An Inspiring Address.

Dr. Stone Anderson made an inspiring address in the interest of Christian education and ministerial training. At 11 o'clock Bishop Wilson yielded the gavel to Dr. W. C. Lovett, president of the legal conference, and a session of that conference was held. Dr. A. M. Williams, treasurer of the conference, read his annual report and the same was approved. Rev. J. W. Weston, treasurer of the Preachers' Aid society, read a report, and the same was likewise adopted, as also was the report of Rev. J. P. Wardlaw, treasurer of the fund of special relief.

Dr. J. B. McGehee, who had been a member of the board of trustees of the fund of special relief for the past twenty years, resigned today, and Rev. K. Read was elected to fill the vacancy. Rev. T. B. Stanford succeeds Dr. McGehee as president of this board. Officers of the legal conference were re-elected as follows: Dr. W. C. Lovett, president, and Dr. A. M. Williams, treasurer; Rev. W. F. Smith, secretary ex-officio.

A deed from Rev. C. M. Ledbetter to the trustees for the superannuated homes for a lot located at Glenwood on which a home for some superannuated minister will be erected, was presented by Rev. L. A. Hill. Rev. N. H. Williams, who is being re-transferred from the Florida conference, and Rev. W. B. Burke, a missionary from China, were presented to the conference. Dr. John R. Stewart, agent of the superannuate fund, addressed the conference in the interest of that worthy fund. The report of the committee on The Wesleyan Christian Advocate was read by Rev. W. D. MacGregor and was adopted.

Resolutions for Dr. Cofer.

Appropriate resolutions on the life, service and death of Dr. M. J. Cofer, former assistant editor of that conference organ, were adopted by a rising vote. Rev. R. F. Eakes, the successor of Dr. Cofer, outlined some well devised plans for increasing the circulation of the paper.

The report of the joint board of finance was read by Rev. R. E. Bailey. This report showed the schedule of apportionment of the conference collections to the superannuated ministers and to the widows and orphans of deceased ministers.

Dr. Stonewall Anderson, secretary of the board of education, delivered this afternoon at 3 o'clock the second vesper address. Dr. Anderson's presence has brought instruction and new inspiration in the work of Christian education.

The board of missions held its anniversary tonight, at which Dr. Ed F. Cooke, secretary of the foreign department of the board of missions, delivered a most timely address.

MURDER AND GOLD IN CONFESSION

of my recollection, and while the old man was still stooping over the fruit box 'Shot' picked up a window weight, lying nearby, striking the old peddler over the head. The old man dropped to the floor without saying a word. I couldn't stand the sight of blood, and I stepped outside the door. Presently 'Shot' came out. He told me not to say anything about what I had seen, and he would divide with me. He poured a handful of gold coins into my hand. It was a little more than $100. He went home, and I went to my boarding place on Gilmer street. That was the last I've seen of Risley until I saw him in prison."

The murder, according to Sloan's confession, was committed about 9 o'clock Saturday night. The old peddler's body lay unconscious until noon Sunday, when it was discovered by attaches of the adjoining wagon yard.

Detectives Chewning and Norris say they believe Franklin had hoarded probably more than $1,000, amassed by peddling during years of hard economy.

NEGRO REFORMATORY CERTAIN TO BE BUILT

A reformatory in Fulton county for negro boys is now practically assured, and the institution is planned to care for 200 boys. The juvenile and alms committee of the county commission recently voted to purchase 438 acres of land on the Chattahoochee river in the Adamsville district, and Commissioner Shelby Smith is quoted as saying that the commissioners will approve of the project and the plans for the institution will be made at once.

The commissioners' action came as the result of the severe arraignment by Judge J. T. Pendleton recently of conditions in the children's court. The superior court judge in discharging a grand jury declared that as now run the children's court was "a mere incentive to crime," as the judge of the court had no place to send offenders, since the law prohibited their being sent to jail, and that youthful lawbreakers took the court as a joke.

Ordinance Banishes Slot Machines.—Slot machines will be banished from locker clubs, beer saloons, dance halls, pool rooms and moving picture shows, if the ordinance Councilman Charles W. Smith framed is passed next Monday afternoon. The ordinance was before the legislation committee yesterday afternoon and was approved after being thoroughly threshed out.

Mrs. J. M. Yarbrough, aged 48, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Lindale, Ga. She is the mother of Gordon and Fred Yarbrough, of Atlanta, and also leaves her husband and two daughters, Misses Ruth and Lena Yarbrough, of Lindale. The body will be taken to Lyerly, Ga., on Sunday for funeral and interment.

R. T. Roberts, Covington.

Covington, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Littleton Theodore Roberts, aged 72 years, died at his residence, after an illness of only a few hours. Mr. Roberts was first married to Miss Effie Willis, of Monroe county, who died about eighteen years ago. In 1896 he married Miss Mittie Davis, of Covington, who still survives him. He leaves, besides his wife, one son, Raymond Roberts, of Covington; two daughters, Mrs. W. Z. Mann, of Jonesboro, and Mrs. E. L. Lawson, of Flovilla, and six grandchildren, Misses Ruth and Christine Roberts, Lurline Lawson, Ruby, Lucile and Raymond Mann. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. John B. Gordon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will take place from the residence this afternoon, and interment will be in West View cemetery at this place.

Rufus Lang.

Brunswick, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—News has been received in this city of the death of Hon. Rufus Lang, which occurred at his home in Camden county several days ago. Mr. Lang was an ex-state senator, having represented the fourth senatorial district in the Georgia legislature several years ago. He is survived by a number of relatives in Camden county.

Joseph P. Bryant.

Joseph P. Bryant, aged 63, died yesterday afternoon at his home on Delaware avenue, Ormewood park. He leaves a wife, six sons and one daughter. Mr. Bryant came here from Charleston, S. C., where he was a member of the Charleston lodge of Masons and Odd Fellows.

Mrs. Frances T. Stevenson.

Mrs. Frances T. Stevenson, aged 48, died Friday afternoon at her home, 93 Greenwich avenue. The funeral was held last night at the residence and today the body will be sent to Commerce, Ga., for burial. She leaves her husband, who is now in Panama, and six children.

Mrs. R. J. Spratley.

Mrs. R. J. Spratley, aged 68, died last night at her home, 209 Angier avenue, within thirty minutes after she was taken with an attack of acute indigestion. Up until her sudden illness she had been perfectly well and her death came as a terrible shock to her family. Her husband, son, Thomas C. Spratley, of Memphis, and three daughters, Mrs. J. W. Barnett, Mrs. W. H. Smith and Mrs. T. C. Perkins, survive Mrs. Spratley, who came here ten years ago from Greenville, S. C. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

No Action On Forsyth Viaduct.—Because of the absence of members of the committee to which the ordinance proposing closing the Forsyth street viaduct was submitted, no action was taken yesterday preparatory to the meeting of council Monday afternoon. The matter will be reopened Saturday afternoon by the committee. Citizens interested in the closing of the underpass, or vice versa, are urged to attend.

BUILD FOR FUTURE SAY BUSINESS MEN

money is judiciously expended. We ought to build for the future, and the only way seems to be to issue bonds. The increase in valuations will more than pay for the accruing interest each year. The way to carry a big bond election is to let the people clearly understand that the money, every dollar of it, is to be spent right."

Beaumont Davison: "It is certainly time for Atlanta to begin to build with an idea to the future, and let those who are to come after us enjoy what we have done and help to pay for it. We have but to look at the Atlanta of today to see the great need of planning for the future. It will take money to carry out the work, and a bond issue is the only way to do it. The eternal cry of 'hard-up' that the city makes every year, followed by makeshifts, should end and end quickly. The people will vote for $5,000,000 of bonds if it is put up to them in the right way. We should conduct our city affairs just as we do our own private business—expand as fast as possible and keep an eye to the future."

W. W. Orr: "I am not familiar with the inside workings of the city, but as a business man, I believe we should raise all the money legally and safely that we can, and then spend it to make the city grow and prosper. A bond issue appears to be the right method, and I am for bonds."

E. R. Du Bose: "The city should issue more bonds and secure the benefit of its credit; provided, of course, that the proper care is taken in the expenditure of the money. The city ought not to be hard up, if it has the capacity of borrowing $5,000,000, to be used for improvements, to be paid for by future generations who certainly will enjoy the full benefit of them. It is good, sound business policy to use money for future if it is to enhance values and in the end prove a paying investment. As I said, if bonds are issued, provision should be made for a wise and judicious expenditure."

Determine Needs First, Says Orr.

J. K. Orr: "By all means, let us have more bonds. I do not think, however, that we should go ahead and issue bonds to the full amount just because we have the privilege of doing so. What should be done is for the proper authorities to make out careful estimates of exactly what amount of money is needed for all the improvements necessary and then issue that amount of bonds. There is no need for Atlanta to be so hard up, and we should look out for the future as well as the present. The Constitution is on the right line, and I believe every thinking business man in the city will commend the stand it has taken."

Walter G. Cooper: "I first want to see what is going to be done with the money before I commit myself on the subject. I do not care to make a statement on the general use of funds. When something specific for the money to be spent for is made, then I will be in position to talk."

A. C. McHan: "By all means, we ought to use what credit we actually need. The city should be made what it ought to be, and its credit must be called upon to make this possible. The Constitution is exactly right in its stand in the matter."

S. B. Turman: "If the money derived from the credit is spent to advantage I am heartily in favor of the project in every phase, provided the city gets returns from its investments and improvement in excess of the interest deriving from the loans."

H. G. Hastings: "The city should use its credit more. No business can be run without credit. We had to use our credit to meet the demands of our growing business, which has grown even faster than the city has. I am in favor of a bond issue, stating just how much money will be used for each specific improvement and the appointment of a bond commission to handle the funds, which should be carefully used, and to the greatest advantage."

Ivan E. Allen: "It is to the best interest of every well organized business to borrow. No firm should wait until it has the actual money in its possession to make improvements. The same applies to the city. I am in favor of bond issues. The last one was not large enough."

W. S. Elkin, Jr.: "I'm earnestly in favor of bonding Atlanta to the constitutional limit if the money to be derived from the sale of the bonds authorized is used for the betterment and the advancement of Atlanta. I know of no city with a right to issue $5,000,000 to its bonded debt that would not gladly accept it. If it were left to me alone to cast the vote of the city for or against bonds—the fullest issue the law would allow—I'd cast my vote for the bonds."

H. Benjamin: "I was astonished when I read in The Constitution that Atlanta had a right to issue bonds in the sum of $5,000,000 and had not done so to relieve itself from its various troubles—the demands for street, sewer and other improvements. If Atlanta's credit reaches the figures indicated I would be more than pleased to see Atlanta use it."
